PACIFIC COAST.

Details of Lusk & Co's. Failure.

NOTES FROM THE METROPOLIS

Welsh Escapes From His Escort. —Close of the Woodland Re-Union.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Thos. D. Carneal, President of the Lusk Canning Company, has made a statement which includes the following: "Owing to the Company's paper largely held by Wm. T. Coleman & Co., having been discounted by the latter firm and the Company being unable to ascertain by whom it was held, any arrangement with its creditors for the benefit of the canning factory was impossible. As its contracts were of great value, an assignment was necessary to prevent the Company and its business, which is at present profitable, from being involved in litigation. The factory is being thoroughly reorganized."

The company deny that they have speculated in fruit; and regarding the statements which have been made that they had contracts for the larger proportion of the apricot crop and of the peach crop as well, say they bought no more than was necessary in view that the apricot crop was short, and by early buying obtained lower rates than are now current.

It is estimated by outside parties that the liabilities of Lusk & Co. are $200,000. Coleman & Co. had endorsed much of the canning company's paper floated in the East. The entire apricot crop and most of the peach crop of California has been contracted by them, and if the cannery is closed serious results may entail. It is thought, however, that the assignee will carry on business until matters can be straightened out. This is said to be the largest cannery in the world.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

The losses by fire Friday night were as follows: Hooper & Hubbard, cigar-box manufacturers, loss $30,000; insurance $5,000; A. Jewell, general saw and planing mills, $20,000; insurance $5,000; Pope & Talbot, lumber, $12,000; Fairweather Sash and Blind Factory, $3,000 to $4.000; insured; Jesse & Drew, stair builders, $4,000; insurance $500; California Box Factory, $8,000; partly insured. Five poor families occupying tenement houses lost most of their furniture. The furniture factory of A. Free was damaged by water, $4,000.

COURTS AND CRIMINALS.

J. W. Pitcher, who recently pleaded guilty to the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses by swindling F. M. Porper, an Oregon farmer, out of $10,000 by means of fraudulent transfers of real property, was sentenced to-day to a year's imprisonment and a $5,000 fine, which, if not paid, will make his imprisonment nearly fifteen years.

John L. Crawford, convicted of murder in the first degree for shooting Martin Van Buren Burke, was to have been sentenced to-day to life imprisonment, but Judge Murphy granted a week's continuance, in order to consider the question of a new trial.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

John F. Swift left here to-day for Oregon, where he will remain until the election next month, and stump the State in the interest of the Republican party.

United States Marshal Franks left for Los Angeles to-night with Thomas Pendergast and W. H. Gibson, arrested for receiving stamps stolen from the Lordsburg Postoffice, whom he will turn over to the United States Marshal in that city.

Southern Pacific Wreck.

YUMA, A. T., May 12.—The Southern Pacific west-bound passenger was badly wrecked near Gila Bend, between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning, by jumping the track while passing over the new trestle bridge, though the engineer stopped the train within its length. The emigrant smoking cars, day coach and one sleeping car were detached from the other part of the train and fell from the trestle to the ground, four or five feet down, turning completely over and landing bottom side up. Mrs. Good, of England, an emigrant passenger, en route to Garvanza, Cal., was instantly killed, leaving a husband and three small children, who were traveling with her. Another traveler sprained or dislocated his leg, and a Chinaman's leg was badly hurt. But few other passengers sustained injuries outside of scalp wounds and bruises. The accident was chiefly confined to immigrant passengers, there being but few in the other cars. The cars mentioned were completely wrecked. It is thought the track will be cleared before night.

Prison Inspector's Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—J. K. Suttrell, appointed to inspect San Quentin prison, in his report to the State Board of Prison Directors, compliments Warden McComb on the improvements and discipline shown in the prison. He commends the food and reports that the two-shift plan at the jute mill works satisfactorily. The receipts from the jute products for the last four months amount to $68,503. There is now on hand material to the value of $16,658. The net profit for the four months was $19,621. In the sash and door factory 125 men now do as much work as 212 did formerly. The products of their labor brings in an income to the State of $3,500 per month.

Woodland Reunion Closed.

WOODLAND, May 12.—The G. A. R. Reunion of Northern California closed to-night with literary exercises at the Opera House and a banquet under the supervision of the Woman's Relief Corps. At the afternoon session Marysville was chosen as the place for the reunion next year. The following officers were elected: President, J. B. Fuller; Vice-President, J. W. Powers; Secretary, John Clements; Corresponding Secretary, W. W. Holland. The veterans pronounce the reunion very successful. The San Francisco delegation leaves to-night; many others leave on Sunday, but some have decided to remain until later in the week.

At the camp-fire entertainment this evening, Commander L. W. Hilliker, retiring President of the Northern District Posts, was presented with a gold badge in recognition of his services. Reese Clark, a prominent lawyer, made the presentation speech, to which Commander Hilliker made a proper acknowledgment.

Train Robbery in Mexico.

NOGALAS, A. T., May 12.—Six train robbers, supposed to be Mexicans, attacked the southbound train as it was standing at the small station called Agauzeara abont 10 o'clock last night. The robbers opened fire and killed the fireman and wounded several others, one of whom, Conductor Atkinson, has since died. Messenger Hay was badly wounded in the head and face.

The Wells, Fargo safe which contained about $140,000, was taken. The railroad officials have offered a reward of $1,000 for the robbers. A large posse of troops and citizens are in pursuit.

The way-bills and letters were saved. The train left again at 4 this morning with a mounted posse on board. John N. Thacker, who left here last night for Chihuahua, will go to the scene of the robbery, and R. R. Paul, special officer of the Southern Pacific Railroad, with Nick Pierce, of Chihuahua, who pursued the Stein's Pass train robbers lately, will go at once.

THE INJURED.

The name of the fireman who was killed by the train robbers, on the Sonora railroad, last night, was Forbes. Conductor Atkinson died this morning. Express Messenger Hay has been removed here; his chances of recovery are about even. A passenger named French and another railroad man were also severely wounded.

Shortly after noon Mexican officers arrested two Mexican customs guards and locked them up. In the middle of the afternoon American officers arrested a man named Taylor, an American. A hat which one of the robbers lost, was recognized as one Taylor wore about the streets of this city yesterday.

Taylor has been locked up. Just before night the party of Mexican officials who had been in pursuit of the robbers came in with four prisoners. The Mexicans have all been locked up. The American and Mexican officers are working harmoniously together. The funerals of the dead conductor and fireman took place late this afternoon. All the business places were closed.

Murdered for Money.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 12.—A special dispatch from Barnes, Oregon, states that James Bright was waylaid and assassinated, by an unknown man. The murderer shot him down with a Winchester rifle. Death was instantaneous. The assassin fastened a rope to the feet of his victim, dragged the body half a mile from the road, and buried it under the rocks. The body was discovered soon after. The whole country is aroused looking for the murderer. Bright was known to have considerable money, and cupidity was the motive that prompted the deed. Great excitement prevails, and the assassin will be lynched if caught.

A Price on His Head.

GLOBE, A. T., May 12.—The Coroner's jury in the case of M. Wahlen, the merchant who was murdered near here Tuesday, rendered a verdict to the effect that Moses Workman is supposed to be the man who fired the shot, and officers are now in pursuit of him. Citizens have subscribed $150 to pay their expenses. Gila county offers a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer, and the Governor has been requested to offer an additional $500.

Welch Makes His Escape.

RAYMOND, Cal., May 12.—A deputy sheriff of Los Angeles, having in charge two prisoners for San Quentin, lost one at Berenda this morning. He slipped off his shackles and ran. The prisoner's name is Welch, and the crime for which he was sentenced is grand larceny. The officer was an hour behind hunting for a horse. The other prisoner is safe. When the train left the escaped convict was out of sight.

Indications.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Indications for the twenty-four hours commencing at 4 A. M., May 13: For California—Light local rains, followed by fair weather; light to fresh southwesterly winds; nearly stationary temperature in Southern California; cooler in Northern California.

Of Interest to the G. A. R.

CHICAGO, May 12.—It has transpired that measures were instituted in George N. Thomas Post, No. 5, G. A. R., in this city, to procure a decision from Commander-in-Chief Rea, of that organization, on the action of E. D. Baker Post, Philadelphia, in admitting the Confederate General, Joe Jonston, to contributory membership, as those who bore arms against the United States are ineligible to regular membership.

Insane Mother's Deed.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 12.—Mrs. Ida T. Jordan, wife of Thomas Jordan, a grain dealer of this city, administered a fatal dose of poison to their child this morning. She then cut her own throat with a razor. The woman is partly demented and her infirmity was intensified by excitement over "Christian Science," of which she was a devoted student. Both are dead.

EASTERN AND GENERAL

Littlewood Wins the Six Days' Walk.

SORRY-LOOKING PEDESTRIANS.

Exciting Vote in the African Methodist Conference — Mississippi Floods.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

NEW YORK, May 12.—The crowd at the Garden after midnight was one of the largest since the walk began—estimated at fully ten thousand spectators.

The excitement was intense caused by the fact that the Mexican had succeeded in getting within two and a half miles of Littlewood. It was plain, however, that this wonderful work was telling on the fleet-footed Mexican. Shortly after midnight he commenced to stagger around the track like a drunken man. He retired to his room only to be driven out again by his relentless trainers. Again he staggered and reeled along until to the amazement of the multitude he fell to the ground. The poor fellow got up only to fall again. Dozens of voices cried out, "He has been drugged!" This his trainer stoutly denied, and he was taken off the track amid the groans of the spectators.

The score at 9 o'clock was: Littlewood 568, Guerrero 552, Herty 531, Noremac 500, Golden 489, Hughes 474, Campana 342.

At 9:35 A. M. Littlewood had beaten Albert's record of 571 miles by 25 minutes, and was only a mile and four laps behind the best record.

At 10 o'clock Littlewood tied the best record for the 130th hour, which is Hazard's, of 572 miles and 880 yards.

At 11 o'clock Littlewood was one lap ahead of the record and bids fair to beat the record of the champion. The score was: Littlewood 581, Guerrero 561, Herty 541, Noremac 505, Golden 496, Hughes 485, Campana 354.

At 4 P. M. the score was: Littlewood 593, Guerrero 568, Herty 551, Noremac 514, Golden 505, Hughes 495, Campana 333.

At 5 o'clock the score was: Littlewood 600, Guerrero 576, Herty 559, Noremac 520, Golden 531, Hughes 495, Campana 368.

At 6 o'clock the score was: Littlewood 602½, Herty 559, Golden 516, Campana 371, Guerrero 578½, Noremac 523, Hughes 495.

After Littlewood's trainer announced at 6:30 that his man would not beat the record because of a split toe, there was very little interest in the struggle. The sorry-looking pedestrians had nothing to contend for and merely continued walking for "gate." Littlewood came out occasionally and made a lap or two, but was evidently suffering intensely. At ten o'clock the race was declared closed. The scores of those who made 525 miles or more, and who are entitled to a share of the gate receipts are: Littlewood, 611; Guerrero, 589, Hertz, 573; Noremac, 533; Golden, 529. The receipts for the week were $18,000, of which Littlewood receives about $4,000, and Guerrero about $1,800.

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

Reports of the Overflow at Points in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Dispatches from various points along the Missouri and Mississippi rivers report an almost unprecedented high stage of water. At Fort Benton the flood reached the highest point in twenty years.

At Dubuque, Iowa, the water is within six inches of the highest water mark. Hundreds of thousands of dollars damage has been done to property situated on the low lands in the city and vicinity. Mills have shut down, and many people have been driven from their homes.

At Davenport much the same condition of affairs exists. The damage done by the giving away of the Government water power dam yesterday is placed at $200,000. Much anxiety is felt both there and at Rock Island.

At Keokuk manufacturing is almost totally suspended, and trains on the Keokuk and Northwestern are abandoned.

Alexandria, five miles below, is in danger of being submerged. Citizens are out working on the levees, which are already giving way in places.

A vast area of farming lands along the river is covered with water, and farmers will suffer great damage. Telegrams from Canton, Mo., say the railroads are under water, and the inhabitants are panic-stricken. Farmers on the American bottom, between Alton and Cairo, are greatly agitated, and fear a repetition of the disaster of 1882.

The levee at Alexandria broke shortly after noon, flooding the town and doing great damage.

QUADRENNIAL CONFERENCE.

Report of Bishop Taylor's Work in Liberia.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Bishop Foster presided at the Methodist Episcopal Conference to-day. The rules were suspended that Bishop Taylor might make his report on his work in Africa. When the Bishop stepped to the front of the stage the people arose to their feet and applauded for several minutes. He said his success in Liberia was wonderful, and read a statement comparing statistics in Liberia in 1884 and 1886. Schools, scholars, teachers and ministers have increased in number. The liquor traffic has grown less and is now confined entirely to the Dutch settlers. The suppression of vice is due to the work of Miss Amanda Smith. He next gave his history and experience for the past 35 years. Bishop Taylor took a long time to explain his position toward the General Conference, it being claimed that he was not entitled to a seat among the Bishops. The gist of his remarks was to the effect that he had not been guilty of disloyalty, therefore is entitled to a voice in the body.

After Bishop Taylor had finished, Dr. Gue, of Illinois, moved that a committee be appointed, consisting of two delegates from each separate district and three delegates-at-large, to consider the report. This created a great deal of discussion.

Dr. Neeley, of Philadelphia, moved, as a substitute, that the part of the report which considers the question of missions be referred to the Committee on Missions, and the rest to the Committee on Episcopal. The substitute was adopted.

Rev. Charles McClean, of St. John's River, created quite a sensation by offering a resolution to the effect that none should be elected or consecrated bishop until he had taken a cast-iron oath to abstain from the use of tobacco. It was voted down. A resolution from the Kansas Conference was offered, to the effect that mass meetings should be held by members of the Conference protesting against the liquor traffic. It was moved to lay the resolution on the table, and lost. The resolution was then referred to the Committee on Temperance. Adjourned till Monday.

AFRICAN METHODISTS.

National and Canadian Churches United—Exciting Vote.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 12.—In the African Methodist Episcopal Conference to-day the subject of a union with the Canadian Church came up. At the close of speeches pro and con, a series of resolutions were read declaring the union consummated and all the conditions fulfilled, and that the General Conference will support it as strongly as possible. When the vote came to be taken by yeas and nays many voters desired to explain their position in favor of the union, but not the clause which said all conditions have been fulfilled. The audience was in a continuous uproar, and owing to the number of explanations made, the vote proceeded slowly. When Bishop Pane was called, he said the union was based on deception, suppression and absolute lying, and voted against it. This created a sensation, and some hisses were heard. All the rest of the Bishops voted yea, and the resolutions were adopted.

Columbian Complications.

NEW YORK, May 12.—In February, 1885, while an insurrection was in progress in the United States of Columbia, Colonel Benj. A. Gitau came to this country with $88,000, subscribed by the rebels, with which to purchase arms and munitions. He placed the funds in the hands of Santiago Perez Triana & Co., brokers. The Colonel commissioned the steamer City of Mexico and loaded her with arms. The vessel was seized by this Government. Then Gitau bought the steamer Arden. He was about to send her down to his country when he learned that the rebels had been defeated. Then he demanded the balance of the money from Triana, who refused to give it up. The Columbian Government heard of these funds and commenced a suit both against Gitau and Triana. This action came to trial in the Supreme Court yesterday. The plaintiff claims to be entitled to all the funds that remain.

Gitau denies that he has any money and that of the money held by Triana & Co., he is entitled to 25 per cent. for his expenses and salary. The case was adjourned until Friday.

Republican Rallies.

HELENA, Mont., May 12.—The convention of Lewis and Clark counties elected thirteen delegates and thirteen alternates to the Republican Territorial Convention at Livingstone, which meets on the 19th inst. to choose two delegates to Chicago. The vote of the delegates on presidential preference resulted: Blaine 29, Allison 6, Gresham 6, Harrison 3, Depew 2 and Ingalls, Hiscock and Sherman one each.

MENDOCINO COUNTY CONVENTION.

MENDOCINO, May 12.—The Republican County Convention to-day nominated the following ticket: C. A. Irvine, Sheriff; J. F. Clark, Assembly; Sam Paxton, Clerk; J. M. Mannon, District Attorney; J. W. Stout, Coroner; J. F. Whipple, Recorder, and Sam Rice, Surveyor. The following are the delegates to the State Convention to nominate Presidential electors: Geo. H. Singley, Hon. T. C. Carothers, Hon. Philo Handy, E. W. Blair, Hon. I. G. Morse, E. F. Decamp. Blaine's name was cheered to the echo.

Democratic Doings.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 12.—The Democratic Convention of the Twenty-first Congressional District selected Robert Belee and Thomas Axworthy as delegates to St. Louis.

PLACER COUNTY CONVENTION.

AUBURN, Cal., May 12.—The Democratic Convention of Placer county elected delegates to the State Convention as follows: J. A. Filcher, G. W. Applegate, W. D. Perkins, J. J. Rich, E. M. Banvard, Robt. Kennedy, M. J. Haley and A. C. Fleming.

SACRAMENTO DELEGATES.

SACRAMENTO, May 12.—The Democratic County Convention elected the following delegates to the Los Angeles Convention: W. S. Manlove, C. Hinkson and Frederick Cox. District delegates: Isidore Townsend, R. S. Carey, James Towhey, R. H. Singleton, Joseph Hahn, Anthony Green, W. W. Cunningham, John Rooney, James Elder and J. W. Stephenson. The resolutions endorse Cleveland.

Hanged for His Crime.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Zeph Davis, colored, was hanged in the County Jail at 11:17 this morning. The crime for which Davis suffered was committed abont 7 o'clock on the morning of February 27th, in Greene Bros.' factory, his victim being Maggie Gaughan, a pretty little girl about 15 years old. Zeph was employed in the factory, where Maggie also worked, as foreman. The body of his victim was found in the afternoon of that day in a closet, in the rear of the building, under a pile of rags and was horribly mutilated. Fisher confessed to killing the girl because she refused to obey his orders. Davis is the first colored man hanged in Cook county.

TRANSATLANTIC.

Week's Summary of the European Situation.

PROPOSED TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

Bismarck Scaring England into the Coalition—Frederick's Condition.

[Copyright 1888 by the New York Associated Press.]

BERLIN, May 12.—The Emperor has passed a good day again. The groundless reports circulated this afternoon, caused general excitement, until the results of inquiries at the palace were published. The official news concerning his condition is not entirely trustworthy, as the doctors join in the concealment of the worst phases of his malady, and in making the best of any change for the better. But reliable information that has been indirectly obtained, tends toward the hope that the Emperor's life will be prolonged beyond recent expectations. A favorable symptom is increasing his strength. To-day his efforts to walk about the room were fairly successful. A week ago he could not move his limbs; now with slight assistance he is able to take an occasional turn up and down the room. His fever in the morning is very slight, but increases towards night. His sleepfulness continues, though frequently broken, but he enjoys

INTERVALS OF REPOSE,

Deep and refreshing. His breathing is now seldom labored. The Empress visits his bedside every morning, awaits his awakening, and remains until the doctors assemble for consultation, when she returns to meet her duties and go riding. The regular medical counsel now consists of Doctors Mackenzie, Wagner, Kraust, Hovell and Lyden. On Tuesday of each week Doctor Senator, and on Fridays Doctor Bardereben, both adherents of the treatment produced by Macenzie, attend special consultations. Since Tuesday the weather has been bitter cold, and the greatest precautions are taken in airing the rooms, to prevent the slightest draft or change of temperature. The Emperor is receiving fewer official reports than formerly, while the Empress endeavors to limit business by curtailing the number of receptions, and seeks to alleviate the tedium by a perusal of light literature. The Emperor feels gratified at receiving choice bouquets and wreaths, daily, from all parts of Germany, England and Italy. He also receives immense numbers of letters, many of which he insists shall be read to him.

THE DOCTORS ARE HOPEFUL

That they will be able to remove their patent to Friedericksruhl palace at Potsdam early in June, when Dr. Mackenzie will take a week's holiday. The Dowager Empress Augusta, accompanied by the Grand Duchess of Baden, will at the same time go to Badelsburg, so as to remain near the Emperor. The royal family's dread of a relapse does not lessen. The result of to-day's examination of the Emperor's throat discourages every hope of more than temporary recovery. Dr. Mackenzie reports that the local malady is making gradual progress. The œsophagus is still unaffected. The difficulty of swallowing is slight, but the check placed upon the extension of the disease has been only partially successful. Everyone who sees the Emperor is struck with his wasted appearance. Before the last relapse he did not looked like a sufferer from

A MORTAL AILMENT.

Now he is worn and pallid, and marks of his long illness are on his face and form. The Empress, after hearing Dr. Mackenzie's report of examination, paid her promised visit to the new market which is to be opened next autumn. Mayor Forkenbreck received the Empress and the princess who accompanied her, and they were given a hearty reception by the thousands assembled in the building.

Although only the Chief of Police and another officer were present perfect order was maintained, and the Imperial family made a tour of the market without hindrance. Many of the market-women presented them with nosegays, while others strewed flowers along the paths between the stalls. The Empress told Mayor Forkenbreck that no incident of her sojourn in Berlin since her return has been so pleasing.

PRINCE BISMARCK'S SOLICITUDE

To prevent the public mind from being lulled into a deceptive calm regarding the chances of war, was shown in the promptitude with which were made the denials of the predictions placed in his mouth in connection with the Schurz interview. Schurz did not communicate to any person the subject of his conversation with the Chancellor. He is, therefore, not responsible for what his unofficial note in the North German Gazette termed an absolute invention. The truth is, the official circles, from Prince Bismarck outward, continue to take the gravest view of the international situation.

THE CHANCELLOR'S LATEST EFFORT

is declared to have been for the purpose of bringing England into closer relations with the triple alliance. During the visit of the Duke of Rutland to Berlin, the Chancellor so impressed him with the immensity of the great European conflict, that he was led to report to the English Cabinet in terms that scared Lord Salisbury into a renewal of negotiations with the Chancellor and Count Kalnoky, the Austrian Prime Minister, looking to a conference of the powers to settle the Bulgarian question and to revise the Berlin treaty. The Duke's report also had the effect of hastening the English Government's plans for national defense, which seemed most meagre and insufficient. Count Von Schoreloff, the Russian Ambassador, was present at the final interview between the Duke of Rutland and Prince Bismarck. Since the Duke returned to London, Lord Salisbury is reported to be approaching Russia, with the approval of Prince Bismarck, in inviting a conference and offering to concede the

DEPOSITION OF PRINCE FERDINAND

As the preliminary measure to a coalition with England, the triple alliance soliciting the co-operation of Russia would appear to lead to a solution of the Eastern question, but no effective settlement is really hoped from the conferences of the diplomacy. It is expected in official circles that the Czar will listen to proposals for a conference. The Russian press is more than ever inspired with the Pan-Slavism furore. It proclaims the coming war will make Russia master of the Bosphorus. Russia's only terms on which she will cease her armaments are described as the withdrawal of Austria from Bosnia, and the recognition of Russian supremacy in the Balkan peninsula. The Kreuz Zeitung sums up the situation as a short spell of

APPARENT PEACE.

The nations, it says, are slumbering on a crater that will erupt in a day and surprise even those evil influences which are trying to foment war. If the central powers find the Czar unyielding they will not wait for him to mass a million men on the frontier before giving battle. Advices from St. Petersburg state that the new Pan-Slavist re-organization is embracing most of the military and civil officials. General Ignatieff, who openly advocates a French alliance, has, in an interview, expressed confidence that Russia, singly, can beat back Germany and Austria, and united with France can extinguish the triple Alliance. Military circles in Berlin look forward to a summer or autumn campaign. At the annual staff dinner recently Count Von Walderze, in toasting Count Von Moltke, alluded to near events. He said he was confident that Count Von Moltke would guide operations so as to secure the army new victories.

A SYSTEM OF RELIEF

Calculated to mitigate individual suffering in inundadated districts, has been organized. Reports from along the Vistula indicate widespread ruin which yet will take a long time to remedy. The low lying districts are still submerged and engineering measures will be necessary to drain them when the waters have subsided. Immense stretches of what were formerly fertile lands have been swept clear of soil and are at present mere waste expanses of sand. A pumping process to carry off the water is being actively carried on, but effects little to restore the former farming conditions. For the current year

THE AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK

Is hopeless. The Empress is making arrangements, in case the health of the Emperor permits, to visit Dantzic to stimulate the work of the relief bill for improving and rendering navigable the rivers Odor and Spree, which is now before the Landtag and meets with approval. It aims at the canalization of the Odor from Breslau, and the connection of the Spree with the Odor, thus opening up the country to the coal and iron deposits of Silesia. Last year's imports from England into Berlin amounted to 120,000 tons. The project will supplant English by Silician ores. The debate on the bill disclosed the fact that the water traffic of Berlin is greater than that of Hamburg and that it has increased within three years from seventy million to one hundred million centimes, being exceeded only by the water traffic of London.

THE ROYAL LIBRARIAN

Has discovered a manuscript record of the visit of John De Witt, of London, in 1596, together with drawings of the theaters of the time of Shakespeare. Herr Muller, of Bremen, will publish the record, which will be a literary sensation. Kurschner's Literature Kalendar states that the total number of literary works in Germany in 1887, was 15,972 against 16,253 in 1866. M. Herbette, the French Ambassador, has returned to Berlin. It is reported that he will be replaced by Chauvinist as envoy.

London Cables.

LONDON, May 12.—The St. James Gazette says that the settlement between the United States and Morocco was due to Prince Bismarck's sending a private communication to the Sultan.

The Sugar Conference has concluded its work. To-day the delegates signed the final protocol with a draft of the proposed treaty. The Convention delegates will submit a draft of the treaty, with their resolutions, to their respective governments, and communicate their views thereon to the English Government by the 6th of July. The plenipotentiaries will be invited to meet again on August 16th at the latest for the purpose of signing the treaty.

The race for the Kempton Park Great Jubilee stakes to-day was won by Minting; Tyrone second, Cobbler third. Nineteen starters.

Dominion Doings.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 12.—Lauvier's amendment to the resolutions embodying the acceptance of the Canadian Pacific Railway's terms for the cancellation of its monopoly privileges in Manitoba and Northwest Territory was defeated in the House of Commons by a vote of 111 to 68. The resolutions were then adopted.

Dillon's Double Sentence.

DUBLIN, May 12.—The trial of John Dillon on a second charge of offending under the Crimes act, was concluded to-day. He was again sentenced to hard labor. The sentences, however, will run concurrently.

THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

One Week More Allowed For Its Discussion—Coleman Failure Figures in the Debate.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The House, after passing the Senate bill granting the right of way to the Fort Smith and El Paso Railroad Company through the Indian Territory, went into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill.

Hanger, of Wisconsin, concluded his speech in opposition to the bill. He addressed himself especially to the labor question as it was affected by the tariff.

Townshend, of Illinois, spoke in support of the bill. The issue, he said, was not between protection and free trade. The only issue raised by the bill was whether Congress would reduce the high tariff created by the war, which was wholly unnecessary now, and produced distress among the masses of the people. The bill did not go far enough. It did not go so far as the President had intended it should go, nor so far as Senator Sherman had declared it might safely go, yet it gave relief to the overtaxed people and would have his cordial support. It was a conservative and judicious modification of the tariff on a fair business basis. He denied that the bill was a sectional one. Several gentlemen have been wild with fear that coal and iron ore were put upon the free list by the bill. He denied that the bill did this; but even if it did, it was strange that the Democrats should be arraigned in bloody-shirt speeches as disloyal, when they simply stepped in the footprints of the leading Republicans in the Senate.

Kelly said the bid in a roundabout but effectual way put coal and iron ore on the free list.

Townshend replied he had been informed if the bill was equivodal on that point it would be amended; but even if the bill did put coal on the free list, was that a crime, when gentlemen who were among the most potent of the Republican leaders demanded coal should go on the free list at a time when the rate of taxation was less than it was to-day? In 1871 Gen. Garfield had voted to put coal and salt on the free list, as had Frye, Hale and Dawes.

Kelly explained Garfield's conversion to the protection doctrines.

Townshend—What was your reason for disobeying the action of the Republican caucus a year after Garfield's conversion?

Kelly—What right have you to interrogate as to my personal relations and personal reasons? There are other questions than tariff in the world.

Townshend disclaimed any intention to pry into Kelly's personal affairs.

Passing to a consideration of the bill, Townshend declared that no Representative from the West could vote against it without betraying his constituents. He did not charge improper motives. The gentlemen might be deluded, but if they were sincere in their advocacy of protection, they were deluded to such an extent as to obstruct what was to the best interests of the people. The time for action was at hand. The Democratic party must redeem the pledges it had given to the people. The line of demarkation between the two great National parties was defined in the bill.

Cannon, of Illinois, said it always occurred to him that when his colleague (Townshend) spoke, that his colleague's highest ambition was not to discuss the question on the broad ground of principle, but to delve back in the past and try to establish his case, by showing that somebody who disagreed with him agreed with him some time ago. His colleague had said that he (Cannon) misapprehended his constituents' interests for those of Massachusetts. Illinois to-day had more wealth than Massachusetts, and had as many manufactories as Massachusetts, and some of these days the Rip Van Winkle sleep which overspread the district his colleague represented, would be broken, and the sound of the hammer and the hum of spindles would be heard there, then his colleage would be converted.

Milliken, of Maine (alluding to a remark of Townshend as to Blaine being repudiated by the people) thought it was very wonderful that a gentleman in a foreign land pursuing his business, in his own way, troubling nobody, taking no part in American politics, escept to be interested, as every patriotic American must be, should be such a source of anxiety as he was. The gentleman had said that Blaine had been repudiated by the people, but the statement was not true. He had been repudiated by certain Democratic methods which in certain districts of the country prevented the people from speaking their voice. He (Milliken) would say to the gentleman, neither he nor his party dared to accept the honest verdict of the people.

Kean, of New York, spoke against the bill. He characterized it as a sacrifice of the industries of the country to the interest of President Cleveland.

Allen, of Mississippi, referring to some remarks made by Foran, of Ohio, concerning the South, said he wondered where that gentleman learned all he knew of the South. If the gentleman knew no more about the doctrines of protection and free trade, than he did about the South, he never ought to speak about tariff.

Foran suggested that he learned something about the South in 1864.

Allen, referring to the remark made by Morrow, of California, that the recent failure of W. T. Coleman & Co. was attributed to the fact that the Mills bill put borax on the free list,

THE LUCAS TRIAL.

The Evidence of Several Witnesses Yesterday.

A CONVICT'S TESTIMONY

Proves Very Interesting and Shows How Bad a Boy Can Become.

Detective Emil Harris resumed the stand at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning in Justice Taney's court in the case of the People vs. A. J. Lucas.

Colonel Wells continued the cross-examination, and the witness said: I know Charles H. McCurry, he came to my office and identified the articles belonging to him, and I told him I could not give them to him, as they would have to be used in evidence against the thief. I then told him he would have to swear out a warrant against the thief, and I took him to the Prosecuting Attorney and he made an affidavit against Lucas; I then brought him to a Justice of the Peace and he swore out a warrant.

THEODORE C. METZLER

Was called and said: I know A. J. Lucas. I was with Harris and Russell when the search was made of his office and house. I had three search warrants. I read these to Lucas. He said first he did not have the articles named in them. I then read another warrant, and Mr. Lucas said he had the articles therein named. He then went to the safe and took out the package. (Witness then enumerated the articles already mentioned by Harris.) I then asked him about the three gold watches and the diamond rings. He did not have them. Then we found some letters. When Lucas said he knew the articles were stolen, I said: "If you knew they were stolen, why did you not turn them over to the proper authorities? You are not a sworn officer, and have no right to retain them." "But," said he, "I make my living by holding these articles for rewards and that was why I held them. I asked Lucas some questions about Elton and he said he did not know him. He then told me that he had worked for him in San Francisco. He had seen him here and had given him the articles mentioned. Lucas said: 'I knew the articles were crooked when Elton gave them to me.' I then asked the defendant if he did, not pay Elton's board, and if he had not given him work in this town. He said 'no,' he had kicked him out of the office. I interviewed Elton about Lucas and he told me that he and Lucas had worked together. He was in jail for something when I talked with him. I never offered him any inducement to testify against Lucas. I have known Elton for about two years, and have seen him three or four times since. Irwin arrested Elton in San Francisco. I knew Lucas in San Francisco, when he was connected with the Pacific Coast Detective Agency. This concern was rotten to the core, and Lucas was arrested and convicted of felony there. Elton told me at the jail that he had stolen a red beaded purse from a house on Temple street, containing about $25. The purse and about $10 was given to Lucas, who told him to keep on stealing. Elton told us where the articles were found and said he would show us where. In every instance we found that Elton's story was true.

MR. JOHN FARRELL,

A resident of this city, living now at 833 South Olive street, said: During the month of April I lived at No. 215 Temple street, and my wife missed a purse containing $15 or $20 or $25 about the 10th or 12th of last April. Witness testified as to the location of his room in the Winona hotel, and was excused without cross-examination, except in regard to the time of the robbery.

At the conclusion of this testimony the court adjourned until 2 P. M.

Afternoon Session.

Julius Water was called and said: I am a jeweler,. I have missed a pair of opera glasses and four celluloid pins, and a gold pen and pencil combined from my rooms, within the last three or four weeks. My room is at No. 355 South Fort street. I have seen the opera glasses and the pencil since they were stolen. Detective Harris brought the pencil to me at my store to be identified. The opera glasses and pins I saw at the Chief of Police's office. I did not swear out any warrant.

C. H. M'CURRY

Said: I live at 207 South Main street. I am a gambler by profession. On or about the 14th of April I missed a shoe-buttoner and a corkscrew; about the 1st of April I missed my vest. I have not seen it since then. I had the shoe buttoner in my trunk, and wanted to use it, that was the way I made the discovery that they were gone. I swore out the complaint against Lucas when Mr. Harris told me that they had been found in his possession. I would have sworn it out against any one else just as quick, under the circumstances.

The defense then admitted that Lucas had gone to the Model Restaurant on Arcadia street, with Elton to make arrangements for his board for one week. Lucas said he had given an order to Mr. Rogers, the proprietor, to that effect.

W. H. RUSSELL,

Jailor of the County Jail, said he had gone, on the 19th of April, with Mr. Harris and Mr. Metzler to Lucas' office with a search warrant. When Metzler read the search warrant Lucas went to the safe and took out the articles heretofore described. After that they went to Lucas' house and made the search, finding the articles stated before in this report of the trial. Elton seemed to be a little resentful against Lucas, for he thought Lucas had given him away to the Chief of Police. Elton told me that he and Lucas were working together, and that Lucas told him where he could find rich booty. Elton supposed that Lucas had given him away to the Chief of Police because he had given a woman some of the stolen articles. The prisoner who first told me that Elton had a story to tell about Lucas, were Webb and Caines, the alleged burglars who attempted to rob Lambourne & Turner's store. Webb told me first and then Caines, and then I telephoned to Harris.

EMIL HARRIS

Was recalled by the prosecution and said: I went with Elton one night to find places where property had been stolen. We found one place, on Main street, where the pistol was stolen, and where a watch had been taken.

MR. THOS. C. DOUGHERTY

Said: I am an engraver and live about half a mile out of town. I do not know Lucas. That star was made in my place for Adams, the gunsmith on Commercial street, about six weeks ago. My place of business is at No. 5 Arcadia street. I do not know Elton. I do not know when Elton was arrested. Lucas and another gentleman came into my office one day to inquire about a certain badge, and if it had been made there. I do not remember who the gentleman was that came with him. I don't think I ever made any badges for Lucas.

WILLIAM ELTON

Testified: I am living in Los Angeles now, at the County Jail. My occupation is mostly that of a clerk. I am eighteen years old. I met Lucas in San Francisco about two years ago, where I worked for him as an agent in the Pacific Coast Detective Agency. I next saw him when I came to Los Angeles about the beginning of March. I saw him on the street the very day I came. I saw him in his office and went to work for him that day. The first work I did was "spotting" on the Temple street cable road. The next work I did for him was burglarizing houses. The button hook and corkscrew came from Main street, where Lucas went and got them. He and I had been walking along the street and when we came to No. 207 he said wait a minute, I want to go up here. He was gone about fifteen minutes and came down with the shoe buttoner and corkscrew and a package which I thought was a vest. I took that purse from a house on Temple street, it had $25 in it. Lucas got $12 and the purse, and I, the rest. Then one day he took me down Hill street and pointed out a house which he said would be very easy to rob. That was the first time he mentioned robbing to me, and then we agreed that I was to have half the money and give him the other half and the property. Lucas then gave me $5 to get a badge, saying that if a landlady should see me in there or I should get caught, I could show them the badge and say that I was in search of some one. I gave the pistol to Lucas and afterwards he told me I could keep it for self protection. I got all the rings from one room on Main street. I gave them to Lucas. Lucas knew everything I gave him was stolen. I cannot tell exactly where I got all those articles, as I went into so many houses that it would be impossible for me to remember them all. I do not know but two or three streets.

Examination was here postponed in order to give the defense a chance to put in the testimony of some of its witnesses who were officials of Stockton and Lathrop and wanted to start back. The defense then called

MR. M. L. BEACH,

Of Stockton, who said: I am jailer in Stockton and a deputy sheriff. I know the witness. I met him first on the 23rd of November, 1887, when he was in the county jail on a charge of larceny, sentenced to 100 days. I talked with Elton about Lucas first in my office. He asked me if Mr. Walker did not have some letter about him from Lucas. He said Mr. Lucas had got him in a hole once before, and was trying it again, and he was going to get even with him if it took his lifetime. His reputation was very bad. I would not believe him under oath.

Cross-examination: I had to put Elton down in the cellar once for bad behaviour. Then I told him if he wanted to fight me I would let him into the hall, where he could do it. He was the worst prisoner I ever had in the jail.

MR. C. B. WALKER,

Constable of Lathrop, said: I met Elton in Stockton about one and a half years ago. I met him in Lathrop afterwards. Elton's reputation in that community generally was bad. I would not believe him under oath He asked me if I did not have some letters from Lucas I had used in the case against him. I told him yes, and he said, "I'll get even with him yet."

Cross-examination—I have known Lucas for five years, but never worked for him. I told Lucas' attorney about Elton's threat to get even with Lucas.

The commitment of Elton to the Stockton prison was introduced by the defense as evidence.

The Court ordered an adjournment at 4:30 o'clock until Tuesday at 9 A. M., when the prosecution will continue the examination of the witness Elton.

Alhambra and San Gabriel.

EDITORS HERALD: Many people of other places complain that the boom is over. Alhambra and East San Gabriel have no reason to complain thus. We have had no boom, nor do we wish for one. Every day sees some permanent improvement begin and many strangers drive through the streets. It will not be long before Boabdil avenue will be a level and good street. About twelve workmen are at present engaged in the improvement of the principal thoroughfare.

All the carpenters are busily engaged. Some are working on the new church and others on the house of Mr. Riel. The church presents a splendid view and Alhambra is proud of it.

A long felt want has at last been filled. A printing establishment has occupied one of the rooms on the lower floor of Pomroy & Stimpson's block, and The Alhambra will henceforth be published here.

Mr. S. D. Crow has opened a furniture store in the room next the printing office. A meeting of the Flower Festival Committee was called for last Saturday evening. The purpose was to make a report and decide what should be done with the money, but owing to the sickness of Mr. A. C. Weeks no business was transacted. Each hour in the day a street-car leaves Alhambra for the Raymond. A cement sidewalk is in the course of construction between the East San Gabriel Hotel and the depot. Mr. O. H. Stone and wife have gone East, but they expect to be with us again in a few months. The East San Gabriel Hotel is all furnished and it is expected to open in a few days.

"Why do you always report our number of hands short?" asked a boss of his foreman. "Well, I was a short-hand reporter once, you know."

BUILDING PROGRESS.

A List of Structures Being Erected.

NO CESSATION IN ACTIVITY.

Eleven Million Dollars Worth of Business Blocks and Residences Under Way.

The activity in the construction of buildings in this city has given rise to much comment, and is constantly surprising visitors who come expecting to find the progress of the city as effectually stopped, as it is in other sections of the country. It is considered as one of the most promising and encouraging signs of the prosperity of the future that so much money is being placed in improvements, which, for the most part, are substantial and solid. It is a sign that the crisis, upon which the city wavered when it was uncertain whether it would remain an interior town or to become a great metropolis, has passed, and that the people have decided in favor of the latter, and are making haste to supply the want created by their delay. For a long time building was confined to residences and these spread rapidly in every direction until it became evident that the business interests of the city demanded proper accommodation. The stores which were sufficient for the city two years ago were found to be inadequate for the increased population, and there was a demand for more than double the number then in existence. Professional men could not find offices, and private dwellings were impressed into service, and even then there was not a sufficient supply for the demand. It was at this time that property owners decided that the tide of immigration had been turned Los Angeles and never to be stayed and that they were perfectly justified in investing their money in permanent improvements in the shape of business blocks. The start was made and one after another followed the leader until to-day there is not a block in the business portion of the city but which contains new and handsome buildings, either just erected or in the course of construction. Millions of dollars have been spent and many millions more have been placed in bank to pay for these improvements, and the end is not yet, nor will it be until Los Angeles has become entirely transformed, until all of the old one and two story buildings have been torn down and replaced by structures of five and more stories, until Los Angeles, Main, Spring and Fort streets from one end to the other are lined with as costly architecture as graces any metropolis in the United States, and at the present rate of progress, this state of affairs will exist inside of the next half decade.

The building of business blocks does not interfere with the erection of dwelling-houses, and every day the vacant spaces between residences are being filled with cottages and houses of pleasing and picturesque design; and yet when another season rolls around the demand for more will be as great as it is at present.

There are so many improvements in progress that it is almost impossible, without the employment of an army of men, to give a complete list, but the following will give an idea of what is going on in the building line:

Besides these the plans are being drawn for about as many more, and the total summed up is as follows:

Business improvements,	$6,454,000
Residence "	2,500,000
Improvements projected,	2,250,000
	$11,200,000

Found Guilty.

In Judge Cheney's court yesterday morning Harry Schmidt was tried on a charge of burglary. On the 23rd of December, 1887, about 1:30 A. M., Schmidt was caught in the dwelling house of J. E. Lacey, at 101 Turner street. Schmidt said that having become intoxicated, he wandered into the premises and fell asleep. Officer Jackson, to whom the prisoner was turned over by Lacey, favored this view of the case in his evidence before the jury. A couple of days before being caught in Lacey's house, Schmidt had been locked up one day in the city jail for having been drunk. Nothing unfavorable beyond this was known by the police respecting the prisoner. The jury were only out a few minutes when they returned into court with a verdict, finding the defendant guilty as charged.

Meeting Postponed.

A meeting of the Democratic Central Club was held last evening in Judge Taney's Court-room. The Committee on Constitution and By-Laws asked further time, which was granted. It was agreed to adjourn until the 26th instant, owing to the fact that the State Convention will absorb all the incoming week. It was also agreed that the meeting of the 26th be advertised in daily papers under the call of chairman.

The "Vienna Buffet" is itself again.

From One Who Thinks.

EDITORS HERALD:—I am glad to see that there is one newspaper that is alive to the importance of news about the railroads all over the United States. To my mind, as well as every one else who has thought on the matter, there is nothing which shows the progress of the country so well as the activity of the railroads. There is not another paper that I can find which makes a specialty of giving the railroad news in the country, and you are making a reputation for yourselves. I am not a railroad man but I realize the importance of the subject, and hope you will keep it up. The HERALD is my paper and I am not a Democrat. Yours,

W. R. STETHAM.

Held to Answer.

The examination of Bridget Waters charged with the murder of her husband a short time since, the particulars of which were published in the HERALD, took place yesterday in Justice Austin's court. The testimony given was similar to that already published, and at its conclusion Mrs. Waters was held to answer for murder in the second degree, with bail fixed at $5,000.

THE RAILROADS.

A Serious Wreck on the Southern Pacific.

ONE KILLED—MANY INJURED.

The Sonora Train Held up and Robbed Near Nogales—Latest Details.

A serious accident occurred between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning on the line of the Southern Pacific, near Gila Bend, 120 miles east of Yuma. Passenger train No. 20, west bound, and due in this city at 8:50 P. M., was passing over a culvert which gave way, and precipitated the hind end of the train into the hollow below. A passenger coach, a smoker and an emigrant car were thrown completely over, killing Mrs. Good, an English lady en route to Garvanzo, and seriously injuring several others. Dr. Kilpatrick and other officials left for Colton to meet the wrecked train and attend to the injured, and a HERALD reporter was also dispatched to the same place. Mrs. Good's body will be brought in on No. 20, which at the hour of writing is bulletined as 2½ hours late. Full particulars of the tragedy (the result of the reporter's investigations) will be found in another column.

TRAIN THIEVES AGAIN.

A Passenger Train Held Up on the Sonora Road.

The north-bound passenger train on the Sonora Railroad, which runs from Guaymas to Benson on the Southern Pacific, was attacked by train-robbers on Friday night. The scene of the robbery was at Agua Zarca, a small station fifteen miles south of Nogales. Six men attacked the train by opening fire with Winchester rifles, instantly killing the engineer and mortally wounding the fireman. Wells-Fargo's Express Messenger Hays was ordered to give up his keys, but resisted desperately. He was badly wounded in the head and face, and it is expected that his injuries will prove fatal. The thieves, foiled in their attempt to open the safe, carried it off bodily, but the amount within it cannot at present be ascertained, as Messenger Hays is unable to make any statement.

Mr. Pridham, the representative of Wells, Fargo in this city, was seen yesterday afternoon by a HERALD reporter and questioned regarding the amount of probable loss to his company. He said: "I am unable to give any estimate at all, though I am of opinion that there was not very much in the safe, as all our heavy bullion shipments from that part of the country are made by boat from Guaymas. Then again we do not handle very much money in this direction over that division, and I am not aware of any special shipments being made. I am unable to furnish you with any particulars of the affair, as all the information we have of it is a telegram from the front stating the bare facts of the case."

Johnny Thacker, Wells Fargo's celebrated detective has been notified to proceed at once to the scene and will be joined by Special Officer R. H. Paul, of the Southern Pacific and Nick Pierce of Chihuahua. A posse of citizens is already in pursuit, but the chase is expected to prove a hard one, as the thieves are undoubtedly natives and acquainted with every inch of the country.

ADVERTISE LOS ANGELES.

A Good Opportunity Offered in Chicago.

The following letter has been received by Mr. Williamson Dunn, General Agent of the Santa Fe line, from Mr. H. B. Wilkins, General Freight Agent, San Diego:

"Mr. Emmons Blaine, General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Chicago, Santa Fe and California railway, Chicago, writes, asking that we will furnish him with a collection of views of Southern California. I presume that some of our enterprising real-estate men and others will be very glad to send him a supply. These photographs will be framed and hung up in the new passenger depot in Chicago, and will of course be instrumental in advertising very effectively the section of country which they represent."

Mr. Dunn requests that any real-estate men or others who wish to advertise their enterprises will send to him photographs, which will be forwarded by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express to Mr. Emmon's Blaine, and will be placed in a conspicuous position in the Union depot at Chicago. This depot is one of the finest in the country, and no better mode could be devised for advertising this section in the very locality where the advertisements wil be seen by the largest number of people.

NO BLOCKADE.

The Statement About the Santa Fe Contradicted.

A statement has been made by the Northern and Eastern press that 3,300 delayed freight cars are strung out on the Atchison system in Southern California, principally at Los Angeles and San Diego. Mr. Williamson Dunn, speaking of this yesterday, remarked: "You can safely say that this announcement is quite untrue. Our lines are clear, and there is not even the faintest indication of a blockade. Our yards here are worked up to date, and no goods of any description are delayed in handling, and this is best proven by the fact that we have no complaints coming in. The motive stock in our possession enables us to handle everything offered, and shippers need not fear any delay from the reasons alluded to in your clipping."

The Needed Fuel.

The Southern Pacific has determined to build a line to its coal mines at Carbonado without delay. The contract has been made with Nelson Bennett to construct from Ortung, 18 miles from Tacoma, and thence on through the cañon of the Carbon rive to the mines. The work will be very expensive, as two tunnels will have to be made, but it will soon repay the expenditure, as it reduces the distance one-third, and will enable the Southern Pacific to bring double the amount of fuel to Tacoma at the the same cost as the quantity now received. At the present time these mines from the chief supply of the Southern Pacific in the west.

New Freight Rates.

New freight classifications to govern transcontinental traffic have been sent out by Chairman Leeds. A rate of 80 cents per hundred on cast-iron pipe in carloads from Chicago to the Pacific Coast has been made. Poultry, frozen, in refrigerator cars, full carloads, will hereafter be registered as freight of the third class. Empty wooden grease boxes, in cases, westbound, in less than carload lots, will be rated as third-class freight. In carloads they will be rated as sixth class.

The Santa Monica Road.

The contract for laying track on the Los Angeles County Railroad, between this city and Santa Monica, has been let to Spillman Bros., and tracklaying will be commenced during the week on the Burbank end. This contract reads that the line is to be completed by July 1st.

Coming West.

The graders of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific have reached Norton, Kansas, 300 miles from their obtective point at Colorado Springs. The work is being well done and the contractors claim that the road, when completed, will be one of the most substantial in the country.

General Gleanings.

A "Sunset" excursion will leave the city to-night.

Dr. Wing is acting as doctor for the Santa Fé system in this city during the absence of Dr. Fremaine.

An engine ran off the track in the Southern Pacific yards yesterday and caused a temporary delay of business.

The long talked of extensions and additions to the California Southern wharf at National City are to be made forthwith.

Dr. B. G. Rowell has been appointed Division Surgeon of the Santa Fe system, with headquarters at San Bernardino.

The Shasta excursion season opens on June 1st, when a special train with a dining car attached, is to leave San Francisco.

The Janney coupler is being introduced by the Pennsylvania Company. Where it is used, couplings can be made without brakemen going in between the cars.

The orange shipments from Riverside this season have reached 658 carloads, or 187,814 boxes. It is anticipated that 700 carloads in all will be shipped from that point.

The Pullman people propose to put on another vestibule train daily each way between Chicago and New York, and will build the coaches as soon as they get their New York and St Louis line equipped.

Mr. C. H. Palmer, telegraph operator at the California Central station at Riverside, has been transferred to Santa Ana. Mr. U. P. McHenry, of Carlsbad, will go to Riverside to fill the vacancy there.

The Emmert patent car-seat has been adopted by six roads. Among them are the Grand Rapids and Indiana, the Chicago and West Michigan and the Chicago and Alton.

The Atchison system of carrying tools, water buckets, etc., in a chest underneath the coach is much admired. In the case of accident it is much easier to get at them than from the side under the old method.

Owing to the Coleman failure it is announced that the railroad from Livermore to the coal mines eight miles from that town will not be constructed. The surveys have been all completed. Mr. Coleman is largely interested in these mines.

It is authentically stated that a syndicate of American and European capitalists intend to speedily construct the proposed underground railway beneath New York city. The expenses will be very heavy, as a large portion of the line will have to be cut through solid rock.

The officials of the Santa Fe's new Chicago line have made a requisition on the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and firemen for one hundred crews to run its trains. The requisition has been honored and the places will be filled from the men who left the Burlington on February 27.

The vestibule trains which the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe are running between Chicago and Kansas City represent an investment of $1,000,000. Each train is lighted by electricity and heated by steam from the locomotive. Every modern improvement and convenience known to railroading has been introduced.

The Gus Williams theatrical troupe, which appears at the opera house this week, is credited with having purchased the longest mileage ticket ever issued. There are sixteen persons to be conveyed, and the ticket covers 3627 miles, going from Chicago to British Columbia, Puget Sound, Salt Lake, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Kansas City and returning to Chicago.

GOOD WORK

Of Deputy Sheriff Poyorena at Los Nietos.

E. A. Poyorena, Deputy Sheriff and Constable of Los Nietos township, did a fine piece of detective work and promptly secured his man the other day, in the case of S. W. Robinson, charged with being accessory to the Cox shooting affair. The case against Robinson was set for examination before the Justice of the Peace at Norwalk last Tuesday, but when the hour arrived the defendant was non est inventus. Mr. Poyorena immediately made use of the telegraphic wires, detected the train upon which his man had "set sail" from Los Angeles, caused his arrest at Merced, and immediately started after him, returning with his prisoner to Norwalk on the Friday morning train, greatly to the relief of the sureties on the bail bond of the fugitive. Poyorena is well known as one of the most efficient executive officers in the county, but he is universally too modest to claim newspaper publicity. It was he who captured and brought from Lower California the ravisher, McCauley, although the merit of the capture was claimed by a brother officer who would not be able to save himself, much less capture anybody, in that portion of Mexico where the population is almost unisally unfriendly to citizens of the United States. LOS NIETOS.

The "Vienna Buffet" is itself again.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Zarzuela Musico-Theatrical Troupe.

The Zarzuela troupe will give Don Luis Olona's operatic-drama El Juramente (The Oath) to-night at Armory Hall. The music of this fine piece is by Don Joaquin Gastambide, one of the sweetest of Spanish composers. This troupe possesses great dramatic and musical excellence, and place their pieces on the stage with historical regard to costumery. Luwitas Villasenor de Ureña is a superb actress and exquisite singer. The public has given a liberal patronage already to this troupe, their merit having been at once recognized, and we feel assured that all who see the Juramente this evening will be repaid. It is a fine opportunity for Americans to hear the Castilian language rendered in its purity, and to enjoy the delicious music which abouds in this piece.

The Philharmonic Society.

The Philharmonic Society has changed its rehearsal evening to Friday, owing to the difficulty in obtaining a suitable hall. No meeting will therefore take place on Tuesday evening, but on Friday evening at 7:30, a meeting is called at Bancroft's hall, in the Panorama block, No. 218 South Main street. The society is composed of the most musical people in the city, and the concerts to be given will be equal to any given in New York or Boston.

Gus Williams at the Grand Opera House.

Mr. Gus Williams begins an engagement to-morrow evening at the Grand Opera House, supported by his strong company, and will present during the week his latest two comedy successes Keppler's Fortunes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and Oh! What a Night Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mr. Williams is said to be an exceedingly talented dialect comedian, one of the most popular actors on the stage, and a prime favorite throughout the entire country. This opening play, Keppler's Fortunes, is from the pen of the well known author, Cal. Wallace, and is said to be strong in plot and replete with pathos and comedy, and well calculated to bring out all the strong acting abilities of Mr. Williams; also affording him an opportunity to introduce his comic songs and comic recitations, for which he is famous.

China and Japan.

Colonel Sanford delivered his lecture, "China and Japan," to a fair sized audience at Armory Hall last night. Many of the best people of the city were present and gave the closest attention to the lecture. Colonel Sanford is a natural orator, a quiet, dignified speaker, who, by the exercise of a heaven-bestowed power, plays upon the feelings of his auditors as a skillful musician plays upon his favorite instrument. He has an easy conversational style, the grace and quietness of which are captivating. After hearing him speak five minutes one feels perfectly at home with him. The listner goes with him to dozens of places of interest in China and Japan, and listens attentively to the clear and beautiful descriptions of all of them. He talks to his auditors as one friend to another, there being not the slightest constraint in his manner. Frequent, though often unexpected, sallies of bright humor rendered his lecture decidedly entertaining.

The Canadians.

The members of the Canadian Society held their regular meeting last night at Opera House Hall. It was largely attended and all present spent a thoroughly enjoyable time. The following programme was discussed: Recitation, "Old Time Song," Mr. J. C. McGlidden; selection on piano, Miss Van Sickle; reading, Mr. Dixon; instrumental music, piano, Miss Van Sickle; reading, "Bessie's Lover," Miss J. Ross; reading, "Ostler Joe," Mr. D. B. McQuarrie; vocal selection, "The Bridge," Miss Richards; recitation, "I'll find a way or make it," Mr. Morrison; recitation, "Beodecia," Mr. Vorquo; recitation, Archie Dean, Miss Rosie Harben; selection on piano, Miss J. Ross; parody on "Wreck of the Hesperius," Mr. Cochran; recitation, "Pat's Criticism," Mr. M. Glidden. After the programme was concluded the audience arose and joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Saul of Tarsus.

The Hon. Mr. Wendling, at the request of many citizens of Los Angeles, will repeat his celebrated lecture "Saul of Tarsus," to-night at Hazard's Pavilion, particularly for the benefit of young men. There is to be no charge for admission, as Mr. Wendling kindly consents to give it as his contribution for the welfare of the city. At Mr. Wendling's suggestion a voluntary collection will be made by the building fund of the Young Mens' Christian Association. The clergy of the city, with few exceptions, have agreed to close the churches and attend. Those who heard the lecture Monday night can attest that no one will go away disappointed.

Mr. Wyatt's Benefit.

Manager H. C. Wyatt, of the Grand Opera House, is to be tendered a benefit May 24th by Mr. Frederick Warde and his excellent company. Mr. Wyatt has worked early and late for the benefit of the public, and has presented to the citizens the best attractions known, and it will only be a fair return for the people to turn out and give genial Harry Wyatt a rousing benefit.

A New Burchard.

Some days ago the Riverside Chronicle, now defunct, published the following, crediting the same to the San Francisco Alta:

ENCYCLICAL LETTER.

ROME, March 1, 1888.

To the ladies of the Christian Temperance Union of America who shall read this present letter, health and apostolic benediction in your noble efforts to destroy the Republican party of America, for the sacred cause of the "Holy Catholic Church" of Jesus Christ; our "Lord and Savior." For this we give glory to God, who consoles us in our trials, and we beseech Him to bless you as a people, and to grant you long desired peace and accord.

Touched by these sincere displays of devotion and solid piety, and yielding to the request of the ever faithful members of the "Holy Catholic Church of America," you can now, by uniting with the "Catholic Church," be decorated with the Order "Rosary," to the sacred heart of the "Virgin Mary."

By your immediately placing yourself in communication with the parish priest, village or city, he will most solemnly receive you, and impart to you the future instructions necessary to guide you to Paradise through the Holy Catholic Church of Rome.

It is with sorrow we learn that the most gifted of our countrymen are Heretics, and leaders in the Republican party, which must be your constant aim, with prayers and masses, to avert. Hence, at vespers, you will continue to offer up your pious supplication for the extirpation of heresies, the conversion of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian preachers, and all other so-called infidels of the like faith, which, in due course of time, will be most effectively silenced, for the extollation of the Most Holy Mother of Jesus Christ, her beloved Son, whom I now represent at Rome. Moreover, to all and each of those who, with contrite heart, make such "Novenas" we grant a remission of sins, and dispensation from penance; also we grant, so that they may be applicable to the souls of your friends in purgatory.

Given at Rome, near "St. Petes," under the seal of the "Fishermen," this 1st day of March, 1888, in the 16th year of our Pontification.

LEO XIII, Pope.

U. LEDCHOUSKI, Secretary.

Some Catholic at San Bernardino who read this sent it to the San Francisco Monitor, and that paper, in commenting on the letter purporting to emanate from the Vatican, says:

"The spurious document itself bears upon its face its own condemnation, hence it needs no words on our part to prove that Pope Leo XIII never composed it, nor did it emenate from any Church authority in Rome or elsewhere.

In order, therefore, to show the bogus character of this calumny against the Church, and this gross insult to the Pope and Catholic citizens, the Monitor will pay to the Alta, or to its echo the Riverside Chronicle, the sum of five hundred dollars ($500), through the banking house of Messrs. Donohoe, Kelly & Co., of this city, if the Alta or the Chronicle prove that Pope Leo XIII. ever dictated, signed or circulated such a diabolical document as the foregoing. This offer to remain open for one month.

Here is a chance for the Alta and Chronicle to make five hundred dollars very easily. We ask no penalty in case these twin calumniators of the Church fail—as fail they will—to prove that such a scandalous, spurious and Satan-inspired document ever emanated from the present Pontiff who fills the Chair of Peter. Hence these two conspirators against truth, decency and the Church of God, can win five hundred dollars in gold without risking a cent in return."

Owing to indications of a crowded house for Dicken's readings, it has been found necessary to have reserved seats. Tickets can be marked for these after 10 o'clock on Wednesday at Brown's music store, 1 1 N. Spring street.

Supplied in corked bottles.
James' Mineral Waters, Seltzer, Apollinaris, Vichy, Unyadi, etc.
These mineral waters are prepared with the greatest accuracy from the analysis of the natural springs by celebrated German and French chemists, and are similar to the natural waters in every respect. The extracts and flavorings are prepared from the fruit, flowers and roots of the first quality by the proprietor at the laboratory in the factory, and the purity of all beverages is fully guaranteed. Bottles are all washed and rinsed by machinery, and the greatest care is taken to ensure perfect cleanliness in every branch of the business. A well has been sunk, which proves to be one of the finest in Los Angeles, the water being drawn from a stratum of fine sand 18 feet in thickness, at a depth of 102 feet. This water has been analyzed by the proprietor and is of the very best and specially suited for the manufacture of Ginger Ale similar in every way to the exported. When asking for James' Ginger Ale, Soda Water, Seltzer Water, etc., observe the label on each bottle, without which none is genuine.

Tariff Tinkers.

The San Francisco Bulletin in an issue of recent date publishes an attack on the Mills tariff bill, based on the failure of Wm. T. Coleman & Co., which is alleged to have been brought about by this proposed legislation in that it broke up a pending sale of the borax business of the house. As to the action of the bill in this respect, we fail to see how it can reasonably be attacked. The company had been selling borax at six and one-half cents per pound. The tax is three cents per pound. Before the manufacture of this commodity from the vast deposits found in this State and Nevada, we are told the imported article cost twenty-five cents per pound. In the face of these facts it is utterly absurd to say that any tax on imported borax is needed, or that the tax cuts any figure in the price of it. Take off the impost of three cents per pound, and we reduce the price to three and a half cents. Does any one assert that it can be imported and sold at any such price? If it can, then the Coleman Company has been making a profit of one hundred per cent. more than a fair one out of the people. As there are some half a dozen men interested in this industry, it is a monopoly, and thus by the showing of the High Protection people, is neither deserving nor needing any great protection. We say this with no lack of sympathy with Mr. Coleman and his associates. It is a simple matter of justice between them and the sixty million people in this Union.

From borax the Bulletin goes on to discuss other interests of the coast which it claims will be ruined by a removal of the tax as proposed by the Mills bill. In the free list our esteemed contemporary puts lemons and oranges. Now, it may seem uncharitable to say that we very much suspect the Bulletin when it printed these two items knew it was giving publicity to a gross falsehood. This judgment is based upon similar statements wantonly mendacious which appear from time to time in the editorial columns of that journal. We do not dare to think the editor of the Bulletin is so densely ignorant of current facts of so important a nature. It does seem as if he wantonly made statements which he knows to be false.

Again, our metropolitan contemporary sets up a moan about the putting of lumber on the free list. Now, if there is a necessary and beneficial feature in the Mills bill, it is in this taking of the tax off lumber in its various forms. We will take our own case here in this part of the State. Redwood lumber is not affected by the proposed change, for the reason that it grows nowhere outside of this State. The belt reaches from Monterey to Humboldt bay, and is confined almost exclusively to the coast counties. The removal of the import duty would touch most intimately the lumber of the coast, which is known as "Oregon pine." It is in reality a fir, of coarse fibre, but very strong. It is used mostly in the frame-work of buildings. Here is about the prices charged for this class of lumber in its various stages of manufacture: Cost of the logs at the mills, $7; sawing, $2; profit to the mills, $2; ship's charges to San Pedro, $8; lightering, railroad charges and switching to Los Angeles—twenty miles—$5; cost of handling in the yards of this city, $1—total cost laid down here, $25 per thousand. Price to consumers in the yards of this city, $32.50 per thousand. Now will the Bulletin show us at what stage in the game the $2 per thousand import duty is essential to this puny, half-starved infant industry? Is it to the log men who get $7 per thousand? Is it to the mills which put on $2 for sawing? Is it to these same mills which exact $2 profit? Is it to the cheaply built tubs that carry it to our harbor at $8? Is it to the railroad which charges $5 for a twenty-mile haul? Or is it to the local dealers who charge $1 for handling the stuff and then add $7.50 profits? Who is it in this long, strong and irrefragable chain of extortion to whom the protection is necessary? If the lumber business were conducted on a basis of fair profits it is probable that we should get at least $1 off the cost of logs; another off the cost of sawing; still another off the profits of the mills; the cost of shipping to this port should not be above $5, giving us a saving of $3; the railroad could well reduce its charge from $5 to $3, saving $2 more; and then the local dealers would probably survive if they sold their lumber at a profit of $5, thus reducing the cost to consumers by $2.50 more. The total saving to the poor man who builds his cottage as thus outlined, would be $10.50 per thousand. This is the sickly foundling the Bulletin rails over because the Mills bill threatens to take away its bottle!

A Question for the "Herald."

Editor Express—One view of the all-absorbing question of the day I here present. The great function of capital is to pay labor. Hence, one of the absurdities of Anarchists destroying capital and capitalists in order to benefit themselves. For example, take the capital (the wage fund) of a country at $1,000,000, and the laborers at 1,000,000. The country is protective and self-supporting. Thus each laborer receives $1. A new government is elected, and determines upon a free trade policy. It allows foreign commodities free entry. These have to be paid for out of existing capital. Consequently, although there are the same number of laborers, there is a smaller amount of capital from which to pay them. Thus the laborer in competition with foreign-made manufacturers must receive a smaller wage. Suppose this to go on, year after year, what wages will the laborer receive, say in ten years' time? How much capital will be left in the country in ten years? An answer from the HERALD will oblige.

Yours truly,
ANGLO-AMERICAN.

Pasadena, May 11, 1888.

The conundrum propounded by this intelligent correspondent of our esteemed contemporary is not a hard one. It is quite sufficient to call attention to the fact that it is a tissue of bold assumption with not a jot of proof to back it. The country is quite prosperous; but it was more so before the present era of unjust protective tariff. In the anti-bellum days, we did not know what strikes or bread-riots were. The proposition is not to elect a new Government, but to keep the one in power, which for four years has made the country more prosperous than it had been for ten years before. It does not allow foreign commodities to enter free, as a rule. No system of Government can afford to tax all our imports. We do not propose to admit them all free; nor could we so admit them if we would. The Mills tariff bill aims simply to reduce the revenue to the fair needs of the Government honestly administered. The Republican party four years ago pronounced in favor of some measure which would reach this end. As a matter of fact, the Mills bill is in the main a fair, conservative effort to do this. We do not approve of all its features, but on the whole we do not see any serious objection to most of its provisions. That it will interfere disastrously with the industries of this country is a proposition which no fair logic will establish, and which experience will disprove. It will in many lines stimulate our enterprises to greater activity and directly tend to raise wages.

Mr. L. J. Rose Declines.

The Democrats of this section will read the following letter from Mr. Rose with mingled surprise and regret:

EDITORS HERALD: Will you kindly publish in to-morrow's paper that, owing to business complications, I am compelled to decline to be a candidate for Congress.

Let me at the same time assure my friends that it is with much regret that I make this announcement, and to disappoint them hurts me more than anything else. They have been very kind in expressing flattering opinions about my ability to accomplish some good to some of our leading industries of our State, and to justify their good opinions would be the proudest event of a long life. I owe them an apology for not making this announcement sooner, but the thought was such a pleasant one that it has been hard to put it aside, and it is only after a hard struggle that I give it up.

I shall ever cherish with the fondest remembrance the high opinion of myself entertained by my fellow-citizens, and you may be sure that my heart flows out to you in gratitude and thanks. L. J. ROSE.

SOME dozen years ago one of our intelligent citizens began the experiment of growing oranges without irrigation, and to this end planted several hundred trees on the mesa about a mile south of the church at San Gabriel. He has now about two thousand trees on twenty-five acres of land, which have received no water by artificial means. The trees average about ten years old. This season he has picked one thousand two hundred boxes of fruit from his trees, which he sold for $1,200. This is at the rate of nearly $50 per acre. Of course only a part of the trees bear, as a good portion of them are not yet old enough to fruit. With good luck he will pick 2,000 boxes of fruit which he will sell at $2,000 next year, and his profits will go on increasing for five years to come. The experiment was made in the face of much discouragement, and the working out of a successful result is of much interest and importance to the section. The trees in question are luxuriant in foliage, bright and clean, free from scale and other pests.

THE report is going the rounds that ex-Confederate General Joe E. Johnston has been admitted into an encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Philadelphia. He may have been admitted to the body in question but it is against the rules of the order and will not be allowed by the Grand body of the order. By the amendment of 1879 it is provided that no person shall be eligible to membership who at any time has borne arms against the United States and it is also provided that there can be no honorary membership in the Grand Army. This does away with any possibility of General Johnston becoming a member of the boys in blue. The General is a loyal and staunch citizen of the Union. During the rebellion he was the war-horse of Alabama but was one of the first at the close of the war to accept the issue. He told the writer in 1870 that he stood second to no man in his loyalty to the Republic and had accepted the defeat of the South as final and considered any return to the dead issues as unwise.

THE word "blizzard" is not an American coinage. So says Mr. Ashby-Sterry of London, and shows that this expressive word has long been in Nuttall's Standard Dictionary, with its proper definition, "a sudden, violent, cold snowstorm." But a queer word-maker where any thing is absolutely disastrous and disagreeable speaks of it as "blizzardous." This is a strong-sounding adjective that will probably become popular. Mr. Sterry thinks that it is a mistake to call such expressions "slang." It is true that slang very often arises by the adoption of technical terms in general conversation, and what is the slang of one generation not infrequently becomes the refined language of the next. But blizzards belong to the East and not to South California.

THE high license law which recently went into effect in Philadelphia has resulted in an outcome unlooked for. The people of the Quaker City felt overburdened by saloons, and voted for high license. So far the operation of the new law has been to reduce the number of saloons by more than one-half; but the unexpected part was that many of the saloons which could not afford to take out a high license converted their places into milk and luncheon shops. And more surprising, the proprietors find they are doing a better business in this way than they did in the liquor trade. Will the Prohibitionists now boom the bread and milk business?

EUCALYPTUS trees are one of the most profitable crops which can be grown in this section. We all know what a giant one of these gum trees ten years old is. A grove of such trees will readily turn off three hundred cords to the acre. Will fire wood ever be less than $10 a cord? Here then is $3,000 per acre, or at the rate of $300 per annum. Remember the cost is all in the first year of planting, and the last year of cutting. The other eight years we just wait and see them grow.

SENATORS FARWELL and Cullom, of Illinois, who, of course, are both Republicans, were consulted by Mr. Cleveland as to the appointment of Judge Fuller to the Chief Justiceship. They both say he is eminently fitted for the place and that the Senate would confirm him.

THE City Council at its session tomorrow should take steps towards the selection of fifteen Freeholders to frame a new Charter.

Full Details of How it Occurred.

PASSENGERS INTERVIEWED.

One Killed and Fifteen Slightly Injured—Names of the Wounded.

The HERALD reporter in quest of full particulars of the train accident at Gila Bend on the Southern Pacific journeyed as far as Spadra, and there awaited the arrival of No. 20 from the front. It was 10 o'clock ere the train, three hours late, steamed in and the scribe at once wended his way to the rear end, where he was informed the injured were congregated. In the first emigrant car were some eight or ten people, most of them with scarred faces, blackened eyes and other indications of having met with trouble, and in the second coach a similar scene was encountered. Addressing himself to an intelligent-looking man the scribe asked for information regarding the disaster and was answered as follows: "We had been out of Gila Bend station some 10 minutes and had traveled about five miles, when as we were passing over a culvert erected over a dry wash, I noticed a bumping of the cars ahead. The next moment I knew we were off the track, and after being hauled along the ties for about a train-length the coach turned over on its side and was dragged through the sand. The dust and dirt half filled the car and when we came to a standstill and I succeeded in recovering my senses, a sorry looking sight met the view. Everyone was covered with sand and dirt, the children were crying and the women calling for help. I got out as soon as I could and then heard that there was a woman killed. They were just lifting her out as I walked up and her husband, poor fellow, stood heart-broken as he realized the misfortune that had befallen him. His name is L. G. Good, and he, his wife and three children were en route to Garvanzo from England. I became acquainted with the party in New Orleans, and Mrs. Good was a very amiable lady of about 35 years of age. It was rumored that some others were killed, but it was found that this report was untrue, for all of the rest of the passengers came crawling out of the overturned coaches, begrimed and bleeding. There were four cars wrecked altogether—a Pullman sleeper, a first-class day car, a smoker and an emigrant car. From all I could learn, the way the wreck happened was as follows: One of the straps gave way and the rails spread as the train was passing over. The first car to leave the track was a Pullman, and this in turn dragged off the coaches following it. When they finally keeled over and left the track the link connecting the two Pullmans broke and the first part of the train went on, leaving the four wrecked coaches in the sand. As luck would have it, there were one or two doctors on the train, and they attended to the immediate wants of the injured. The conductor told us to get on the other part of the train, and after transferring our baggage, off we went to Yuma, where fresh coaches were provided. A wrecking car went out at once and started to repair the track, the damage to which, of course, did not delay us, as the uninjured part of the train was on the west side of the wreck."

The scribe then proceeded into the Pullman coach and engaged in conversation with one of the travelers therein. In substance the information elicited was the same as the previous statement, with the following particulars regarding the effect on those in the first class coaches: "At the time of the wreck," said the scribe's informant, "there were only three gentlemen in the Pullman and about twelve ladies and gentlemen in the day coach. Beyond a slight shaking up and being smothered in sand, none of these passengers were hurt at all. The reason why so many were hurt in the emigrant car is because they were packed together and had no chance to escape. In my opinion Mrs. Good must have been looking out of the window, as her arm was completely skinned; and then, again, her neck was broken, as if bent down by some heavy pressure."

Mr. Good was the next interviewed and said: "My wife, three children and I were bound for Garvanzo where my brother-in-law, Mr. T. Fellows, resides. We came from Walthamstow near London, England, and intended to settle here. We were all sitting together in one of these seat compartments when we felt the train bumping along and before we could realize what had happened the train had turned over. The sand seemed to half fill the car, and as soon as I could clear my eyes I seized the children and took them to the rear end of the car where it was clearer. I then tried to get at my wife who was partially buried beneath the sand. I dug frantically with my hands and others helped me, but when we extracted her, she was dead."

Mr. Good was so overcome by his grief that the reporter, in respect for it, silently withdrew. It was, indeed, sad to see the strong man as, surrounded by his three children, he sat there almost bereft by his great affliction. The children, scarcely conscious of what had befallen them, looked wonderingly around, the pitied of all observers who thought of the dead mother in her shroud in the baggage car ahead.

In the Pullman coach the reporter encountered Mr. Len Harris and Dr. Kirkpatrick, who had traveled down the line to minister to the wants of the wounded. Both gentlemen had done everything in their power, and the injured whom they had attended were loud in their praises.

Dr. Kirkpatrick said, "With the exception of the death of Mrs. Good, nothing else serious has resulted from the accident. The injuries received by the others are only temporary and though they will be sore and disfigured for a few days they will soon be all right again. I think that they are to be congratulated on having escaped so easily."

THE CASUALTY LIST.

The following is the complete list of the killed and injured.

Killed—Mrs. Good, aged 35 years.

Injured—G. W. Harback, E. J. Nelson, L. M. Anderson, L. G. Good, R. F. Steel, Miss Vail, Madame Cose, Frank Barnes, Doctor Hurley, H. A. Putnam, Doctor N. M. Buck, John Dobbins, Robert Pay, wife and child, H. Fanning and child, W. L. Weaver, wife and child, E. J. Bradford, wife and child.

Mrs. Good's body was brought to this city for interment.

EAST LOS ANGELES.

The Board of Trade Discusses Important Measures.

The members of the East Los Angeles Board of Trade met in Campbell's Hall, at the corner of Downey avenue and Truman street, last night. President R. A. Ling called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. Mr. N. S. Embody, of the committee on raising money by subscription to help pay for the grading of the Downey avenue cut said the committee's report was not very favorable, for the list was circulated only within the immediate neighborhood of the hill. Dr. S. C. Newton suggested that a petition be circulated the entire length of Downey avenue, to have the street graded from one end to the other. The citizens would not then have to pay so much, as the whole amount, divided between so many property owners, would amount to very little per front foot.

Dr. Newton then gave his suggestion to the President in the form of a motion before the Board. Mr. Weed seconded the Doctor's motion, saying it was by far the best plan as if the hill was cut through it would make the street nearly, if not quite, two miles long.

Mr. Embody spoke of the great value it would be to property owners if the street was cut through. The question was then put and carried unanimously.

Mr. Carr moved that three petitions be drawn up and three persons appointed by the chair to circulate the petitions Monday morning. The motion was put and carried, and the Chair appointed Messrs. N. S. Embody, David Carr and Wm. Holgate to commence Monday morning and report next Saturday night. Mr. E. A. Weed called attention to the delay in the taking up and filling in of Downey avenue bridge. Mr. David Carr moved that a committee of three be appointed to go before the proper city authorities and ask them to hurry the matter up. The chair appointed Messrs. S. H. C. Longworthy, Dr. R. W. Morris and E. A. Weed as such committee. The question of having surveyors reestablish the grade of the avenue before the petitions were circulated, caused considerable discussion, the general idea being that unless the hill was cut through it would be of no use to the street at all. After much talking, it was decided

Mr. D. Gilbert Dexter, First Vice-President of the East Los Angeles Board of Trade, moved that a committee of three be appointed to consider the advisability of incorporating the Board. The motion carried, and the Chair appointed Messrs. D. G. Dexter, Judge R. Dunnigan and J. C. Macabe. The committee was ordered to report next Saturday night at 8 o'clock, when the matter would be definitely settled and put to the vote. The meeting then adjourned.

WAIFS

Wired to the "Herald," But Delayed in Transmission.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 12.—The galleries of the Legislature were crowded to-day to hear the budget speech of Provincial Treasurer Jones. He described the condition in which the Norquay Government left the Treasury The books were so wretched it was difficult to say just what the discrepancies aggregated. They had paid for money at the rate of ten per cent. Before leaving the office the Ministers had drawn their salaries up to the end of the month, defrauding the Government out of $600. He estimated the total liability of the Province at $263,683; assets $4,239,223.

CANADIAN PACIFIC MONOPOLY.

OTTAWA, May 12.—In the Commons this afternoon Sir Charles Tupper moved resolutions embodying the acceptance of the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company's terms for the cancellation of its monopoly privileges in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. Mr. Laurier moved an amendment affirming that the terms entered into by the Government and the company involve enormous contingent liabilities for the company without providing adequate security for indemnifying the Government against the payment of the interest it guarantees, and may be compelled to pay, and regretting that such terms do not provide for the expenditure of the moneys to be raised on such bonds in the construction of the branch railways of the Canadian Pacific in Manitoba, British Columbia and the Northwest Territories.

BOULANGER BANQUETED.

PARIS, May 12.—A large crowd assembled at the railway station to see General Boulanger. Upon alighting from the train he was received by his friends and supporters with shouts of "Vive Boulanger," while others in the crowd hooted vigorously. A banquet was given in the evening in honor of the General. In replying to a toast to his health, he protested against the brutality shown by the Government in depriving him of his sword, which he had no thought of using except as the safeguard of honor of his country. "Without bragging," he said, "we know how to present to Europe a spectacle of a nation constructing its forces so that it may be enabled to withstand all storms."

RAILROAD DISASTER.

NEW YORK, May 12.—A terrible collision occurred about 8 o'clock this morning just outside of the Bergen Hill tunnel, Jersey City. The Newark way train was standing a short distance from the tunnel waiting for the main line train, when the Orange express came around a curve and dashed into the New York train, telescoping the rear cars. The heavy locomotive cut its way into the rear car of the standing train, crushing it to splinters and wrecking the cars in front. The wildest panic arose among the passengers, but relief measures were immediately taken. Three passengers were probably fatally injured, five others seriously, and twenty badly bruised. Some of the passengers, who saw what was coming, jumped in time to save themselves from injury. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by the same means. The cries of the injured and the noise of escaping steam from the broken engine of the express drowned everything else, and for a little time no one knew what had happened.

THE CONVENTION.

Arrangements Forging Ahead Successfully.

DECLINATION OF HON. L. J. ROSE

To Accept the Nomination for the Assembly—Other Interesting Matters.

The Committee of Arrangements for the State Convention was busy all day yesterday in its endeavor to complete all the preliminaries before the arrival of the majority of the delegates. Last night Mr. Sidney Lacey, and Captain Barrett, who have been the most active members of the Committee and who have done most all of the work, reported that every thing was satisfactory and that the preliminary arrangements were so far completed that they might perhaps be able to take a few moments rest. Mr. J. J. Flynn and Mr. Geo. W. Kelley were also busy all day long but they reported that they found the arrangements so far ahead of those on any previous occasion that the labor was more pleasant than otherwise. The principal business of the day was the selecting of suitable rooms for the various delegations which are to arrive to-day and to-morrow. A few arrived yesterday and were comfortably placed in the hotels. Afterwards they were shown about the city and in the evening they gathered at the Nadeau, where they discussed the various matters to be considered at the Convention. It was too early in the campaign to determine as to who will be selected as Chairman of the Convention, but it was considered on all sides that the choice is between Lieutenant-Governor S. M. White and Hon. W. D. English, Chairman of the State Central Committee. Friends of both gentlemen are hard at work in the interest of their principals. The Secretaryship appears to be desired by two only—Mr. George W. Kelly and M. F. Dunleavy, with Mr. Kelly apparently in the lead.

It was announced last night that Hon. L. J. Rose had declined the nomination for the Assembly from this district, and this will be a great surprise to those who have been working for him. His letter of declination will be found in another column.

The flowers at the Pavilion were put in place yesterday, and the huge banks of the choicest flowers of Southern California, in conjunction with the bright bunting, gave the vast hall a more inviting appearance than it has ever worn before, and great credit is due those who have had the decorating in charge.

Badges have been printed on silk for the members of the press, and arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of the gentlemen who are expected to visit this city. The names of but few of those assigned to this work are known as yet, but in all probability they will all be on the ground by to-morrow night.

Prohibition Club Meeting.

The Young Men's Prohibition Club met last night, and after the usual exercises, Mr. Chas. Davidson addressed the club, after which Messrs. Adams and Sahey and others made a few short remarks. All were applauded vigorously, and very much enthusiasm was shown in their adopted work. The Prohibitionists are going to make a strong fight during this campaign, and several of the most prominent temperance and prohibition speakers in the United States will visit California during the summer. The HERALD is non-sectional, as usual, when it comes to giving the news and is always to the front.

said the firm was a combination to raise the price of borax from 6 to 7½ cents a pound.

Morrow suggested that before the native article of borax was produced the price had never been below 28 cents a pound.

Allen hoped that the Mills bill would treat every other trust in the same way. If there could be no graver charge brought against the bill than that it would burst a trust, he said let the good work go on.

Lehlback, of New Jersey, said the President deserved the admiration of the Republican party for having taken away all possibility of a deceptive campaign in the manufacturing States of the Union. For years the Democratic party deceived the people of his district as to the true status of that party. In vain would the Democratic political managers again attempt to inaugurate dishonest methods of campaign. The President has effectually promised that it was dishonest to blow both hot and cold on the tariff question. The people of New Jersey would rebuke the men who sought to cripple her industries by the overwhelming defeat of the Democratic party at the coming election.

The committee then rose and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON WIRINGS.

Notes From Committee Rooms and Executive Departments.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Secretary of the Treasury accepted bonds to the amount of $691,700, Bonds offered, $6,467,000.

GETTYSBURG CELEBRATION.

The House Committee on Military Affairs ordered a favorable report of the bill appropriating $25,000 to defray the expenses of the anniversary celebration of the battle of Gettysburg, next July. The President is expected to be present at the celebration, and according to the present programme, he will read the speech delivered by President Lincoln on the battlefield, as the introduction of his own remarks.

CALIFORNIA SURVEYS.

The Commission of the General Land Office, upon application of certain claimants of the San Raimundo or "Coplinger" ranch in California has instructed the Surveyor General of California to execute surveys to define, among other things, the one league line from and parallel with the Bay of San Francisco, which is held to be the proper boundary of Las Pulgas rancho. The survey, as ordered, is to be used in evidence before the court in a suit which has been ordered by the Attorney-General to correct and reform the patented survey of the Las Pulgas and San Raimundo grants.

The Commissioner has also instructed the Surveyor-General of California to make survey of the northern line of Buri Buri and southern line of Canada de Gaudalupe, La Vistacion, Yrode Viega ranches, and orders that the same may be used as an exhibit in court to show the quantity of public lands that are alleged to have been wrongfully included in said ranchos by patented surveys thereof.

TARIFF DEBATE EXTENDED.

The Democratic members of the House Committee on Ways and Means decided to consent to an extension of the general debate on the tariff bill, which was to have closed on Wednesday next, to the following Saturday. This decision was arrived at this morning after a consultation with leading Republican members, and assurance is said to have been given them that the extension would not result in any postponement of final action on the bill.

Carlisle expects to make the closing speech on the Democratic side, and Reed or McKinley on the Republican. A Democratic member of the Ways and Means Committee says: "I believe the bill is stronger now than ever, and that it will pass substantially as it came from our committee. Of one thing you can be certain, either the House will pass a bill that will be some advantage to the Democratic party and the country or none at all. There is a Democratic majority in the House of eleven, and we count on the votes of three Republicans and three independents. As an offset we expect to lose the Randall Democrats. Even if all the doubtful Democrats should vote with the opposition, we shall still be able to pass the bill. When it was first introduced we expected to lose the votes of Ohio and California on the free-wool clause, but we now believe that both Ohio and California Democrats will vote for our wool schedule."

Brooklyn Jockey Club Races About to Open.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Brooklyn Jockey Club races at Gravesend, L. I., open next Tuesday. Stakes for the Brooklyn handicap are expected to attract a number of good horses and fast time is looked for. IRON HIGHWAYS.

Railroad Officials on a Tour of Inspection.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The Chronicle's Albuquerque special says: General E. F. Winslow, President of the St. Louis and San Francisco road, Directors Horace Porter, New York, W. L. Frost, Boston, and David Seligman, Paris, arrived to-day, all en route to California, making an inspection of the Atlantic and Pacific. While here they visited the machine shops, agreeing that an enlargement and additional motive power were necessary.

General Winslow said the relations between the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road and the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad were satisfactory, that the two roads owned the same proportion of the Atlantic and Pacific road, and that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road operated the Atlantic and Pacific because it connected it here, and at present could not operate it to better advantage than any other; that when their connecting lines of the Atlantic and Pacific road between Albuquerque and the present terminal of the St. Louis and San Francisco road, were completed, that arrangements different from those now existing might be made.

THE FIRE COMMISSION.

The New Limits Discussed and Adopted.

The Board of Fire Commissioners met in regular session yesterday afternoon, in the Mayor's office, when there was present a full Board. A communication was received from M. McMahon and others, preferring charges against H. U. G. Haney, engineer of No. 1 engine, charging him with drunkenness during the month of April. Chief Moriarty said that Haney had admitted being drunk, and had promised to reform. Moved by Commissioner Teed that Haney be suspended until further orders. Motion carried. The action of the Chief in selecting Mr. Louis Barthol to fill the vacancy made by Haney's suspension was approved. Mr. Harvey, the representative of the Standard Oil Company, appeared before the Board and said that they had not violated any of the city ordinances in constructing their building. The Chief said that the building was almost completed, and was a good substantial building. The Board, after considerable discussion, recommended Mr. Harvey to appear before the Council on Monday and make his statement. An invitation was received from the Memorial Committee asking that the Fire Department turn out on Memorial Day, May 30th, and join the parade. Invitation accepted, with thanks.

Mr. Humphreys moved that the bill of Mr. Chas. Vanderkuhlen for damages to the Morris Vineyard hose engine-house be referred to Commissioner Teed and Chief Moriarty for investigation.

The new fire limits, as published in Wednesday's HERALD, were then discussed, and it was recommended that the City Attorney be instruced to draft an ordinance including the new limits.

Applications for positions on the force were received from P. Walsch and Herbert Connors and placed on file. The usual number of bills were audited and approved.

A communication from the Goodridge Hose Company was received, stating that W. C. Furrey was the sole agent for the sale of Anchor Hose and that they would not supply Crane Bros. with Anchor Hose. They also offered to supply the necessary hose for 97 cents per foot.

The Chief reported that the following fire-plugs had been put in by the Citizens' Water Company. Northwest corner of Crescent and Central streets; northwest corner of Beaudry and Temple streets; northwest corner of Belmont and Temperance avenues; southeast corner of State and Virginia streets; southeast corner of South Fourth and Beaudry streets; On motion of Mr. Teed, it was recommended that the contractor of the building on the west side of Fort street, south of Second street, be instructed to remove his building material temporarily, in order to allow the City Water Company to lay and connect their water mains, as water is needed for fire and sprinkling hydrants in the southern part of the city. Adjourned.

WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT.

EDITED BY BELLE MEADE SMITH.

A Woman to Boast Of.

It is claimed by Eastern and foreign tourists that Los Angeles is too young in years and too cosmopolitan in character to have any so-called society. In the main this is true, yet despite the perpetual arrivals and departures, the confusion resulting from the continual changes made by those who, although they have come to stay, are for a while restless spirits, the intellectual firmament is here and there studded with stars as brilliant as those that of a cloudless night look down upon Southern California. Foremost among these luminaries is Mrs. Jessie Fremont. In writing of her in this strain, I may be violating the courtesy she extended toward me when one day last week I called upon her at the Marlborough House; but if so, the fault is her's for having been agreeable, and not mine for being enthusiastic. Indeed, I imagine the impression she produced upon me was similar to that which Martha Washington would have produced if times and circumstances could have been reversed. Still, I do not believe that Mrs. Washington, whose revolutionary education must have been more or less primitive, talked like Mrs. Fremont, who has not only received but improved all of the advantages of this advanced age. Therefore, although Mrs. Fremont admonished me, as a new writer, never to tell all I knew, but rather to hide the information I acquired for future use, I cannot refrain from saying that I think she is a woman of whom Southern California can justly boast. When blue blood flows toward the heels instead of the head, it loses, to democratic minds, its cerulean hue; but when, on the other hand, it courses toward the brain, it becomes deeper and more significant to those whose ancestry begun and ended at the corner grocery. So it is in this case. In speaking of Southern California, Mrs. Fremont said: "If I should write East an actual account of its growth and advantages, I am afraid I should be regarded as a boomer. Even the roses are too remarkable to be believed in without being seen; while the perfume of orange blossoms is at times too prodigal to be enjoyed." Of Inglewood, Mrs. Fremont further said: "It will make a beautiful suburb to Los Angeles, especially as in every respect it is solid and well laid out. Even now, it does not in the least look like a new place. It looks to the contrary, like an old French town, fashioned after the Versaillies pattern." Then she told me the professional history of the once popular journalist who, under the non de plume of Miss Grundy, wrote such charming letters from Washington and the watering places. The young lady, who was a Kentuckian, was compelled at the close of the war to seek her livlihood, which she did by entering the employ of the Government at Washington. Subsequently she was dismissed because her services were no longer required; whereupon she became sick, and was conveyed by friends, who were familiar with her fallen fortunes, to Long Branch. While located there she wrote a series of letters to her mother, who found them so enjoyable that upon one occasion she read some of them aloud to several lady friends. The reading chanced to be overheard by a representative of the New York World, and who was so struck by their cleverness that without further demur he arranged with her mother to engage her as the World's special correspondent, at a salary of $20 a week, and as well agreed to pay all of her expenses at the watering places he wished her to describe. In conclusion of the recital I said: "Miss Grundy's experience is phenomenal." "Yes," said Mrs. Fremont, "but if it occurred once, it can occur again. It is impossible to tell where lightning will strike." This is an encouraging possibility for struggling women to contemplate.

Damaging Publicity.

To publicly seek to redress a private wrong is the most damaging thing any woman can do. It not only places her in a humiliating and contemptible light before the world; but it brings into direct question her morality and her respectability. A proud or a sensitive woman instinctively seeks to hide her wrongs from curious and pitying eyes. She realizes that to be abandoned or injured by one in whom she has trusted is a direct denial of her power or her charms; while there is a certain degradation about making a market out of her woes that compels her to maintain an unbroken silence. She does not wish her friends or her family, much less society at large to suspect that she has been debased, and so with a mask of gaiety or denial she struggles to appear happy or indifferent even though she is tortured in the secret of her soul to the verge of madness or desperation. This then being the case, it must serve as an argument against any woman, who by word or act endeavors to solicit popular sympathy, or to obtain mercenary redress for an actual or a supposed grievance. In the lowest strata of society though, we expect women to cry out when they are hurt, and so we are never surprised when we behold them in court, with nameless infants in their arms, or learn that they are endeavoring to secure damages from the man who has promised yet who has failed to become their husbands. But on the other hand, what a revulsion of feeling occurs when an educated, well-bred woman virtually takes her place among this outspoken canaille. The most charitable construction, indeed that anyone can place upon such an indelicate proceeding is that an unsuspected taint of insanity has suddenly developed, or that dwelling too long upon one idea has brought about the same disastrous result. At all events, there is no method in such madness, for if there had been it would have restrained the hapless one from posing as a martyr. Besides, nothing is so wearisome to society, both collectively and individually, as the rehearsal of deplorable narratives; so that, to say the least of it, it is bad taste to robe one's grief in the heaviest sable, then to thrust it forward to be looked at and talked about. Intrigue, tragedy and sensational immorality possesses a brief but vivid fascination for all; but who is prosaic enough to relish the particulars of a family quarrel, a tame conspiracy that hurt somebody and benefited somebody else, or most particularly a commonplace love affair that commenced pleasantly and ended sadly? There are different grades of this damaging sort of publicity, it is true, but in reality it does not matter much whether a woman appears in court as the plaintiff in a breach of promise, slander or seduction suit, or in voluntary and explanatory letters for newspaper publication, for all of these appeals are born of a mordid resentment that is as prejudicial as it is unwomanly, and that in consequence is seldom, if ever lodged within a breast in which reposes the nobler characteristics.

Charles Dickens.

As the torrent of cheap as well as new publications that is constantly pouring in upon the reading public has a tendency to crowd the old favorites into obscurity, it would be well before the arrival of Charles Dickens, Jr., for the people of Los Angeles to refresh themselves a trifle concerning the works of Charles Dickens, Sr. They do not, it is true, harmonize in the least, with the peculiarities of "She" and "Allen Quatermain," neither is there any sympathy between them and "Called Back," etc.; still, when these miraculous adventurers become lost amid the cobwebs of time, the numerous family born of Charles Dickens' brain will emerge from the darkness more unique and fantastic than ever before. Unlike most other writers, Charles Dickens has no prototype and no successor. In fact, his style is so original that it cannot be imitated even by the best imitator. As a portrait painter of lovely women he is a failure, but then they were not in his particular line, and inasmuch as all artists excel either as landscape, portrait or animal painters, and all actors are adapted to comedy, melodrama or tragedy, so all writers are more or less identified with certain literary classes. But his grotesque women, such as Sallie Brass, the Marchioness and Sarah Gamp are incomparable. Susan Nipper too, Mrs. Screwton and dear old Peggoty are as indelibly stamped upon his pages as are Julius Cæsar, Napoleon and Frederick the Great stamped upon the history of the world. Lady Deadlock, though, is a cold but a vivid characterization, and Lizzie, "Our Mutual Friend," plays a strong and conspicuous part; but then these creations are exceptional. But Mr. Pickwick and the Wellers, Dick Swiveller, and Tommy Traddles are real-life comedians at whom one can always laugh. Then, too, Bill Sykes, Quilps, and Uriah Heep loom up before the imagination like flesh and blood hobgoblins; while the myriad and changeful character of his scenes, his inexhaustible humor, his delicate pathos and his inimitable irony, all serve to make Charles Dickens an author who will always be read, enjoyed and remembered.

What is a Dude?

Who is he? what is he? and where did he originate? Is he indigenous to England or America, or both? or is he as devoid of nationality as he is of masculinity? are the perplexing questions which mentally or verbally arise whenever the personality of the dude is introduced. A day or two ago I was asked by a member of the press to define a dude, but I did not inherit deliberation fully equal to so grave a task. The gentleman who requested the definition was of the opinion that a dude existed in manner more than in garb, while another journalist who was also involved in the debate, said that he admired a well-dressed man, and that he did not think it was fair to append such a contumelious adjective or noun (which ever it may be) to any man who merely wore expensive or striking clothes. That is true; but then expensive or striking clothes, even if they are made by the same tailor and are cut from the same piece of cloth, look on the man as different as they look on the dude, as does the coat of the farmer when it is worn by himself or when it is hung on a pole to scare the crows. It would seem, therefore, that the appearance of a dude was merely incidental to his mental development; but unaided by any lexicographer, it is scarcely safe to assert that such is actually the case; especially, as the Canadian who some years ago sued another Canadian for calling him a dude, lost his case—not because he could not prove the charge, but because he could not prove what the charge meant. Everybody, (the dude himself included), has some conception, either original or borrowed of this mooted human creation; while upon general principals all agree that he is some sort of a monstrosity. I think he is an accented snob, who is characterized by a foppishness of dress, an affectation of speech and an ethereal mannerism that is neither masculine, feminine nor neuter.

Mrs. J. O. Espey

Has an interesting Art School on the second floor of the Hollenbeck Building. She has a large and varied collection of original work on exhibition, while she gives instructions in handpainting, embroidery, paper flowers, photograph painting, modeling, carving, pinking and stamping. She makes a specialty of stamping, however, and not only is furnished with patterns, but can produce any design that is required. Her school is open to the inspection of visitors every afternoon, and any lady who is fond of fancy work in general and embroidery in particular could not fail to be benefited by a call.

Gems for the Cook.

PEPPER SAUCE.

One hundred and fifty medium sized, or one hundred large peppers, one gallon of vinegar, onions to taste. Boil the peppers and onions in vinegar until soft, then run through a sieve and bottle.

TOMATO CATSUP.

Scald and press half bushel of tomatoes; then strain them through a wire sieve. Add to them six tablespoonsful of salt, six tablespoonsful of allspice, six tablespoonsful of mustard, four tablespoonsful of black pepper, one tablespoonful of red pepper, one teaspoonful of cloves, one ounce of mace, one pint of chopped onions, two quarts of the best vinegar. Boil the whole slowly four or five hours. When cold strain thoroughly and bottle. Then add one teaspoonful of sweet oil. Cork and seal.

ORANGE SHORTCAKE.

Make a cake with two tablespoonfuls of butter, two eggs, two-thirds of a cup of milk, three tablespoonsful of sugar, two cups of flour and two teaspoonsful of baking powder; bake in two round tins. Slice six or eight good oranges and sprinkle them thickly with powdered sugar. Pull open the cakes and arrange in layers with the oranges. Serve with cream.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[The tenor of communications appearing in this column is not necessarily endorsed by the editors of the HERALD. The writer who desires to be heard in it should always accompany his screed with his full name not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.]

An Indignant Protest.

EDITORS HERALD: I see by the Express that some real nice railroad man has thought to show himself as being superior to his fellow workmen and would brand us all for what are the faults of a few. We are all aware that railroad men bear no enviable name among the citizens of this fair city, but when one following the vocation comes out in such terms as are used in the Express, I think that personal mention of the writers name would be the proper thing; but two wrongs do not make one right, and I shall refrain from using names, yet the would-be nice man is known and the gang he calls his co-workers will surely be constrained under necessity of giving his highness their opinion of a man who finds his associates so contaminating that he would quit work and leave the yard, knowing, as he claims, the condition of the gang and the amount of work expected of them all to be done by the "mob" who make night hideous with their boisterous and abusive language. Poor boy, his ma don't know the company stern necessity compels him to keep, or she would surely fly to her darling and shield him in her bosom. That face, must wear a blush from 6 P. M. until 7 A. M., all on account of the gang. This accounts for the blossom on his nose. Now, it is my opinion if Faber had taken the second thought he would have taken a lunch out of this nice man's nose instead of that of Wolf's, as cooked meat would have been more to his fancy. This man Faber, who fell on the nose of Wolf, was not a night switchman. Assistant Y. M. Wolf never gave him any orders, and he never worked under Wolf; and as for having more officers stationed at the Southern Pacific yard, I think this an unnecessary piece of advice; but the city will hardly condescend to notice the source or medium through which it was given. The business we follow is one of hardships and dangers which some one must do, and which no nervous or weak-kneed men can follow. Hence you will find whole-souled, dare-devil men who, knowing the uncertainty of their calling, take life as they find it; but they are not the notorious desperadoes the article in the Express would imply they were. Many of them have families here who, of course, must feel this insult keenly, and if this will find space in your paper please to contradict all these wild assertions, for from first to last they are false. This man Faber is not a "vag" by any means. He is from a good family and a wealthy one, living in Kansas City. Think of his family seeing these falsehoods! Would-be and tin-horn men belonging to our ranks are in the minority.

A SWITCHMAN.

The Earth Exhales Poison

To the air in localities where vegetation, rotted by freshets, is laid bare to the sun's rays by the retiring flood. Millions of square acres, in the vicinity of the great tributaries of the Mississippi and the Missouri in the South and Southwest, give forth this fever-laden miasmatic vapor, disseminating malarial pestilence broadcast. Not only throughout the great West, but wherever on this continent fever and ague makes its periodic appearance—and what locality is wholly exempt from it? Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the recognized defense, the most highly accredited and popular means of cure. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are eradicated by it. Nor is it less potent when used to remove constipation, liver complaint and dyspepsia, kidney troubles, nervousness and rheumatic ailments. Use it upon the first appearance of these troubles, and with persistence.

STOCK EXCHANGE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The stock market today was very dull, and while there was no movement in the list, except in a few stocks, which was of any importance, the prices sagged slightly. The opening still showed the influence of the upward spurt of yesterday. The bank statement proved more favorable than had been anticipated, and some covering of shorts followed toward the end of the session and the market closed about steady at irregular changes of small fractions for the day.

Government bonds were quiet and steady to firm.

Petroleum opened firm at 86¾c., and after the first few minutes became strong and advanced to 87⅝c. A sharp decline then occurred, on which the price fell to 86¼c., but rallied again and closed steady at 87⅛c. Consolidated exchange opening, 86¾c.; highest, 87⅝c.; lowest, 86¼c.; closing, 86¾c.

BADLY HURT.

A Distressing Accident to Plasterer Kelly.

A horrible accident happened about one o'clock this morning on the corner of Fifth and Olive streets. A man named Kelly, a plasterer, was discovered tangled up in the wheels of a buggy, by two citizens who reside in the locality and who heard the groaning of the poor fellow. They were just about to retire to bed when the noise attracted their attention, and on going into the street they found Kelly with his foot entangled in the spokes. The horse at the approach of the men commenced to plunge, but was prevented from running away and the unfortunate man's leg extricated from the wheel. He was then driven with all possible haste to the police station. When lifted out of the buggy he presented a horrible sight. His left foot was screwed off at the ankle and hung by a shred of flesh and part of the clothing. The bones were protruding from the ankle, from which blood was slowly dripping.

Dr. Wright was called in, and after administering an opiate, examined Kelly and found that besides a compound fracture of the leg, he had been hurt in the back. As there is no accommodation at the Police station to perform an operation on a patient, Peck & McCoy's ambulance was summoned, and the unfortunate man conveyed to the hospital.

R. B. TERRY.

A Plea For His Nomination as Congressman.

EDITORS HERALD: Having heard that Mr. L J. Rose, of this county, has declined to be a candidate for the nomination for Congressman, I, as a humble worker in the ranks of the Democracy, would suggest the name of R. B. Terry, of Fresno. He is a young man who was born in California and in this district; he knows our needs; he has friends all over the district and if nominated would without a doubt be elected.

Give the grand San Joaquin valley a chance and nominate R. B. Terry, who will carry our banner onward to victory.

Criminal Notes.

On Friday night a valuable roan mare and spring wagon belonging to W. E. Hinton, were stolen from the Santa Fe depot.

The residence of Captain Tyler, No. 119 Hoff street, was entered by thieves on Friday night and a gold watch, a pair of ear rings, a breast pin and several other valuable articles, stolen.

Shortly after 10 o'clock a man named George Ryan was stabbed by a man in the Arcadia Saloon, on First street, between Main and Los Angeles streets. His assailant was unknown and escaped through the back door. Ryan was brought to the police station for medical treatment. Dr. Wright dressed his wounds, one of which was in the back and the other in the leg.

On Friday night last the residence of Mrs. Moore on Lecouvreur street, in East Los Angeles, was burglarized, and the following articles carried off: Lady's gold watch, one gold ring, one gold locket attached to rubber chain, one pair earrings, a purse containing $9, and an oval breastpin, with a setting of thirty-six pearls. The thief or thieves broke the lock of the back door of the house, and gaining an entrance, ransacked both the sleeping apartments and rifled all the clothing and bureau drawers without disturbing the occupants.

Yesterday was a hot day for the "Mac" fraternity, as Officers Bowler and Boland arrested three of them, viz: Shorty Burke, John Malony and James Kearney in a house on Sansevain street, where they also captured an opium outfit. At the police station they were charged with vagrancy. Malony put up $100 and Kearney $50 for their appearance before Judge Austin on Monday. The same officers also arrested Wm. Brown in a house on New High street, and also got an opium pipe and a complete smoking outfit there. Later in the day Officers Bowler and McCarthy arrested John Curby and Dan O'Brien on the corner of First and Main streets.

Ladies Who Patronize.

The ladies who allow their names to be used in the list of patronesses to worthy objects are set down so often that they must have some difficulty in keeping run of the things to which they lend the weight of their names. There is always danger that the influence of a person's name may be somewhat diminished by a too frequent appearance in this capacity, as faintly appears from a conversation overheard the other day.

"I see Banghardt is going to give a concert," a man remarked at the club.

"Yes," replied another, "I saw a circular with a long list of patronesses."

"Same as usual, I suppose?"

"Oh yes; you could tell 'em all with your eyes shut. I dare say he never asked half of 'em. They are on so many things they never will know."

"But what about their going?"

"Going? My dear boy, they never go, they patronize."

"Ah," the other murmured, softly, "In the words of the immortal Carroll:

In charity meetings it stands at the door,
And collects—but it does not subscribe.

The Best Dressed Women in France.

Mme. Carnot has a married daughter, but when you see the mother and daughter together you take them to be sisters. Certainly, the President's wife does not look to be more than 22, although she is just 42. It may be remarked, also, that she is probably the best dressed French woman in France. I say the best dressed French woman, because it is sometimes said that the best dressed of all women in France are the ladies of the American colony.—[Chicago Tribune's Paris Letter.

It is almost a pity that the deadlock in the House has been broken, as while it lasted Congress was doing no harm to the country. There is no telling what they may do now that they are free to go to work again.—[St. Paul Pioneer Press, Rep.

OZŒNA.

Ozœna is the professional or technical name given to an advanced form of catarrh in which ulceration has eaten through the membrane lining of the nose to the cartilage of the bone. Any case of catarrh may end in ozœna, but it most frequently occurs in those who are naturally scrofulous. The discharge takes place through the nostrils or through the throat, and is generally of a yellowish or greenish-yellow color, frequently tinged with blood, and almost always attended by an offensive smell. In the language of Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, "The disease is one of the most obdurate and disagreeable which the physician has to encounter. In bad cases the breath of the patient becomes so revolting as to isolate him from society, and render him an object of distrust even to himself."

In some instances pieces of bone become separated and slough off, leaving deep, unhealthy ulcers, which secrete a bloody matter, and are extremely difficult to heal.

After ozœna has continued some time the sense of smell becomes impaired and often lost.

Deafness is one of the most common consequences and results from its extension through the eustachian tube to the internal ear.

Pains in the head and over the frontal sinuses, impairing memory, and even insanity frequently springs from its extension to the brain.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh of ozœna, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.
